Offers $100,000 For Eildon Hall As L. Simcoe Park

York county council this week voted to make an offer of $100,000 for the Eildon Hall property on Lake Simcoe. If purchased the 496-acre property will be made into a public park. The property was offered for $120,000.

The decision followed lengthy discussion in council. It was felt by some members that as desirable as the property might be, the cost was too great for the county to assume, particularly when the cost of opening the property to public use was added to the original purchase price.

It was variously estimated that the cost of developing the land would be as much as another $100,000.

Against these objections, it was pointed out that there is not now any park property of any size along the Simcoe shore which has become in recent years one of the most extensive resort areas in Ontario.

It was contended that the property was the last large piece of land left on the shore which might be used for a park, that if it was sold into private hands for sub-dividing there wouldn't be any hope of a public park along the shore in the future.

It was also argued that property prices in the area would continue to rise and it was a case of buy now or pay more in the future.

The park committee,, of which Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette is a member, is meeting today to prepare a plan of development and figure the cost for submission to county council.

The truck was travelling south. The point of impact was just in front of the cab on the left side. The chassis of the truck was swung around by the force of the collision. The post of the railway crossing warning was snapped at its base.

One Week Campaign For Concert Series Starts Sat., Nov. 24

The Newmarket Canadian Concert association was formed at a meeting in the King George hotel last night and three concerts featuring distinguished Canadian artists will be held in the new year, probably in January, February and March.

A campaign for the sale of membership tickets for the series of three concerts will be held for one week, Saturday, Nov. 24 to Saturday, Dec. 1. During that time there will be a campaign headquarters on Main St. and membership tickets may be obtained from nearly 40 Newmarket citizens working with the campaign.

Mrs. R. E. K. Rourke was elected president of the association. Vice president is Alex Eves, secretary, Mrs. C. R. Blackstock and treasurer, T. Gillespie.

Ten members of the board of directors are H. A. Jackson, Mrs. H. M. Beer, Norman Hurrle, A. Colville, Dr. C. R. VanderVoort, Mrs. Wm. Jay, Mrs. C. E. Blosdale, Mrs. M. G. Peever, Miss Mae Patterson and Mrs. R. D. Brown.

Canadian concert associations are being organized in Canada by Wallace Young, Oshawa and Baily Bird, Toronto, who are trying to provide a better opportunity for Canadian artists to perform in their own country. Their partnership is believed to be the first agency in Canada to sponsor concert series. An American series has been promoted with success previously.

According to the Massey Report of the Royal Commission on the development of arts, letters and sciences, "the Canadian concert stage is very largely dominated by concert agencies in the United States . . . Canadian resident musicians are by no means inferior in talent, in training, and in experience to many of the visiting artists included in the concert series, along with the few internationally known "names." . . . Canadian musicians resident in Canada, however gifted, are never included in the concert series conducted by American agencies."

Included in a number of artists available for concerts in Newmarket are Lois Marshall, the Leslie Bell Singers, Rex Battle, the Commodore Male Quartet, Elie Spivak, Beauna Sommerville, and Marguerite Gignac. Each concert will feature at least two artists.

Answer To Alcoholism Rests With Individual Newmarket Lions Told

Members of the veterans organizations in Newmarket were guests of the Newmarket Lions club on Monday at the meeting in St. Paul's parish hall. It was the club's annual Remembrance night. Present were executive members of the Newmarket Legion, the Newmarket Veteran's Association, and the Air Force Association.

Guest speaker was Rev. Albert Johnson, secretary of the Ontario Temperance Federation, who was introduced by a former Newmarket minister, Rev. T. W. F. G. Andrews, in his turn remembered to his audience by Alex Eves.

The hall was jammed to capacity by club members and their guests. Two minutes of silence were observed and Last Post and Reveille were sounded by Frank Burling. K. M. R. Stiver was chairman of the meeting.

"I am speaking to you of a problem which is up to date, and up to you to settle," Mr. Johnson said. He said that alcoholism had reached to the prominence of a national problem, one which in the United States was costing industry $3 billions a year in time lost and accidents.

Drinking and driving was the most serious aspect of the problem, he said. In the old days, it was not a serious matter but no one now can say for sure he won't be driving after taking a drink. It rested with the common sense whether a man drove when he had been drinking and it was up to each individual to act accordingly, he said.

Dr. Johnson was thanked by Dr. W. O. Noble.

Early Roadbuilding Efforts Said Cause of Heaving Street

An explanation for Newmarket's poor Main St. pavement was given at the council meeting held last week. Every spring the paved surface of Newmarket's Main St. heaves and drops, some seasons providing a washboard effect, other times more like a roller coaster.

The explanation is that Main St. was a guinea pig, years ago, for an engineer who was fond of experimenting. The engineer who worked for a Toronto firm of engineers had a theory that a stone roadbed might be just as successful as a concrete one. Most local critics now would say that it was not successful.

Reeve Arthur D. Evans said that since the experimental road was put down, the county has always promised to put the pavement back in good condition.

With this county assistance in mind, council has been discussing a complete re-construction of Main St. including sidewalks, curbs and gutters. Town Engineer Denne Bosworth said that the county's share of the road construction would be the centre strip, at least 22 feet in width.

Councillor Frank Bowser said that he had learned that the town of Weston's main street, under similar circumstances, was re-constructed by the town itself and that the county paid its share after the job was completed.

Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette said that he was "wondering whether we should take over the responsibility of the road" from the county after all.

"I think we would have enough support from the roads commission to leave the road in the hands of the county," he said. Main St. is part of a number of north-south roads in York which are maintained by the York County Roads Commission. The City of Toronto pays 25 percent of the costs of the upkeep of these roads.

Oak Ridges News

Receives Benefit Gift

Bobby Dion, aged 13, has received the sum of $138.00, representing receipts from a community euchre and cribbage party held in Oak Ridges school last week, to help with treatment after an unfortunate accident. The evening was convened by Mrs. Jack Blyth and her assistants. Bobby is now at his Oak Ridges home, but is still confined to bed. He will not be able to return to school for some time yet.

Mr. Jack Blyth returned from Newmarket hospital on Tuesday afternoon, where he had been ill with influenza.

Pet Pony Found

Dolly, an 8-year-old pony belonging to Donnie Ash, was discovered last week after a 6-day intensive search by her owner and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ash. Three miles from her home, the pony had been caught in a wire fence at the rear of the George Boynton farm between the second and third concession of Whitchurch. Mr. Boynton found the animal after the family search had almost been abandoned. Dolly was found quietly standing in two feet of snow in the bush, unable to free herself. Had the animal remained without food much longer, she would have died. She is now being wintered by Mr. Boynton at the farm.

Canadian Girl Guide Log Book Goes To England

The name "Oak Ridges" will be seen by Guide companies and Brownie packs across England because it is inscribed on a map of Ontario's east central Guide area, which forms one of the pages in the Canadian Girl Guide book, flown overseas last Saturday. All the names of Guide and Brownie centres are indicated by a signal flag or a toad stool emblem.

The page was designed by Captain Joyce Healey of Thornhill. Places are named as far north as Muskoka to the Parry Sound district. This map is attractively done in water colors. The log book has been prepared by Guides across Canada, and will travel among British Guide companies. British Guides made a similar gesture last year, when the British book was flown from coast to coast and seen by Guides, Brownies and Rangers from Vancouver Island to Newfoundland.

In the district telephone directory, the name G. O. T. Gamble, Aurora R. R. 2, is not listed among the names of subscribers. Their number, Aurora 429r21, is listed under "Valley Field Inn" which they have operated for some years on Yonge Street.

Mr. G. O. T. Gamble left by plane on October 29 for England where he is at Harrow-on-the-Hill, near London, where his mother resides. Mr. Gamble also visited his brother in Herefordshire while there.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ash visited the latter's sister, Mrs. George Chester at Scarboro last Sunday, and heard an account of a three weeks' trip to Mexico which the Chesters took.

IN MEMORIAM

Cryderman—In loving memory of my dear husband, Arthur Cryderman, who passed away November 17, 1947.
Dear husband, you are not forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more,
Still in memory you are with us,
As you always were before.
Ever remembered by wife Ida.

Cryderman—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Arthur Cryderman, who passed away Nov. 17, 1947.
What would I give to clasp his hand,
His happy face to see;
To hear his voice and see his smile,
That meant so much to me.
Sadly missed by daughter Dollah, son-in-law Wilfred and grandson Calvin.

Drury — In loving memory of our dear mother and wife, Bella Drury, who passed away Nov. 17, 1945.
In Newmarket softly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one we love so dearly,
The one we could not save.
Deep in our hearts lies a picture
More precious than silver and gold,
It is a picture of you, dear mother,
A picture that never will grow old,
It is lonesome at home without you, mother,
In a sad and weary way,
For life is not the same to us
Since you were called away.
Rest in peace.
Sadly missed and ever remembered by husband and family.

Foote—In loving memory of our dear father, Arthur Foote, who passed away Nov. 16, 1950.
He is gone but not forgotten,
And as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er us,
Friends may think the wound is healed;
But they little know the sorrow,
That lies within the heart concealed.
Lovingly remembered by son Will, son-in-law, Beatrice, and grandson Stanley.

Liscoumb—In loving memory of Joan Liscoumb who passed away Nov. 7, 1944.
While you, dear Joan, rest and sleep,
Your loving memory we'll always keep.
Ever remembered by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eakins.

Miner—On Saturday, Nov. 10, 1951, at North Tonawanda, N.Y., Margaret Norris, wife of the late George Miner, mother of Dr. Norris, and Dr. Carleton Miner, North Tonawanda, sister of Mrs. J. E. Griffith, Weston, Robert Norris, Beaverton, and Mrs. J. Keddie, Toronto.

Peat—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Edward H. Peat, who passed away Nov. 17, 1935.
We watched you suffer day by day,
And could not help in any way;
But just stood by and saw you pass
Into the Saviour's hands at last.
Ever remembered by wife and family.

Prizes, Demonstrations At Beatty Travel Show

Homemakers in Newmarket will have the opportunity to witness an assembly line of home appliances in operation tomorrow. While doing so, they will have a chance on $4,000 worth of prizes. The Beatty travel show will present free showings tomorrow from 2 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. in front of Spillette's store, Main St.

While the washing demonstration is being conducted in front of some 35 people in the trailer, an ironing demonstration will be presented in Spillette's show window. The show lasts approximately a half-hour.

The large tractor trailer caravan, over 45 feet in length, is completely self-contained. It carries its own water supply, having a storage capacity for 750 gals. on board. The Beatty trailer has its own hot water heating equipment and its own generators by which to operate the machinery. It is staffed by four men.

The Beatty travel show has covered the entire province. It has been met with excellent response. Recently when the show visited Aurora, it was judged a great success.

DEMONSTRATE AT N.H.S.

The Beatty travel show, demonstrating a complete line of laundry equipment, will put on a special showing for the members of the Home Economics department of the Newmarket-Sutton Area High School. This show will be conducted tomorrow morning beginning at 10.30. The travel caravan is appearing in Newmarket under the auspices of J. L. Spillette and Son.

No admission charge is made. The visitors to the show see a demonstration of a complete line of the company's electrical appliances and get an entry coupon which entitles them to a chance on one of the ten automatic Beatty washers being given away. Each visitor to the caravan receives a coupon for a package of soap and two or three additional prizes, smaller electrical appliances, will be given by J. L. Spillette and Son. Visitors to the store tomorrow receive entry coupons for this draw.

Farm Forum News

We are pleased to print reports of local farm forums but they should be sent as soon as possible to ensure early publication. —Editor

"Are Co-ops Socialistic" was the topic discussed on Monday evening, Nov. 12, to complete the current Farm Forum series on co-operation.

Members of Newmarket East Farm Forum had different opinions on whether co-operatives pave the way for public or state ownership and more government control. Some felt it would be easier for the government to take over a private concern than a co-operative. Other members felt that co-ops may tend towards state ownership only insofar as they bring to light abuses and press the government for suitable remedies.

Farm Forums were asked to consider whether a good society should be a mixture of individual ownership, co-operative ownership, private-profit enterprise, and some state and municipal ownership. Newmarket East approved of a mixed society because, they said, individual ownership and co-operative ownership give competition and hold down prices.

The Mount Albert and Holt Farm Forum, reporting to the "Era" stated that in their opinion co-ops were not socialistic, because the people themselves own the co-ops, which are not government or state controlled. A mixed society with all kinds of ownership is desirable, because a community and a nation needs ful business.

Pine Orchard Farm Forum met competion to encourage successon Monday evening at the home of Mrs. B. Dike. The next meeting of this group will be held on Monday, Nov. 26, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Hope. The subject for discussion will be "Opportunities for Cultural Activities."

Next meeting of Newmarket East Forum will be on Monday evening, Nov. 19, at the home of Mr. A. Balsdon, 4th concession, Sharon, when review night will be held. Provincial secretaries will broadcast on "What the Forums Say" about co-operatives.

Please send in reports. We'd like to hear from more forums in the district.

Regents, Specialty Win

Town Regents and Office Specialty were Monday night winners in the Newmarket and District Hockey action. A gallant band of battlers sailing under Mount Albert colors all but created the major upset of the infant hockey season by holding the highly touted Regents to an 8-7 decision. In the nightcap Office Specialty were off and flying for an early lead and eventual 9-5 win over Harry Lavender's winless Vandorfers.

Enlarging on the first encounter: Mounties trailed 8-5 with less than five minutes to go. They staged a determined last ditch assault on Howie Peterman in the town wigwam. It netted them two goals, both by Doug Ross, and with any luck it could have been tied.

Hack Cain, making his initial appearance in town livery, crammed in three goals, Bob Smith two. Norm Lightheart, Cliff Gunn and "Fink" Tunstead sniped singletons. Two ever-trying front-liners shared the Mounties scoring spotlight. Dave Couch rapped in four and Doug. Ross three. Bob Dixon's defensive effort earned him "the outstanding figure on the ice" rating.

In the nightcap the Specialty broke on top 4-0 in round one before Vandorf dropped one behind Handy Andy Andrews in Specialty twinery. From there on Vandorf matched the scoring shenanigans of Craddock's Specialtymen as Jim Preston and Bob Staley netted two each and Bill Kingdon settled for a single. Specialty's high-geared scoring threesome Motts Thoms Stan Gibbons and Barney Pearson spearheaded the winners' drive. The trio picked up 11 scoring marks, Thoms three goals, Pearson two goals, three assists and Gibbons two goals and an assist. Bruce Townsley fired the other Specialty counter, Jack Groves assisting.

King-Vaughan Loop Opens

Nobleton, King and Kettleby won in the first games in the King-Vaughan Hockey League last week. Scores were: Nobleton 5, Schomberg 0; King 3, Bolton 2; Kettleby 6, Kleinburg 1.

Sparked by a three-goal display by Tom Dwyer, and one each from Len. Murray and Bruce Wallis, Nobleton's better-conditioned crew polished off Elgin Hasting's defending Schomberg champs. The Bergers had their share of the play but couldn't beat Bill Hoover in the Nobleton wigwam.

King-Bolton clash starting Friday's double-dish was a piperoo. Allan Dowbiggin, King front-liner, popped in a shot with less than 4 minutes to play to break up a 2-2 tie. Loring Doolittle, a tower of strength on King rear-guard, snapped in the first King counter, Bill McCatchen the second. Ted Derbyshire and Ron. Wilson accounted for the the Bolton tallies. They were hard to get with Tommy Hulme coming up with a big league show in the King twinery.

Behind a near shut-out goaltending chore by Johnnie Weedon, strong defensive work by Doug. Terry and paced by a two-goal sniping safari by Frank Wist, Bill Attridge's Kettleby clan walloped Kleinburg 6-1. Bill Gillham, Don. Munshaw, Jack Cober and Bill Attridge fired a goal each in the winners' cause. Len. Ellis banged in the only Kleinburg counter from a scramble to spoil Weedon's shut-out performance. Three stars of opening tilts were Bill Hoover, Nobleton net-minder, Loring Doolittle, King defenseman, and John Weedon, Kettleby twine-guarder.

Schomberg: P. Stewart, J. Greig, F. Dyer, W. Winters, H. Archibald, K. Archibald, M. Edwards, P. Cabell.

Nobleton: W. Hoover, R. Hoover, D. Keffer, B. Gibbs, J. Woods, G. Atkinson, B. Wallis, T. Dwyer, N. Ash, I. Murray, A. Cain, A. Neil, R. Taylor.

King: T. Hulme, K. Ham, L. Doolittle, R. Kirby, W. McCatchen, J. Richards, J. Patton, G. Orr, F. Walton, C. Taylor, A. Dowbiggan, B. Walker, D. McQuarrie, M. McQuarrie.

Bolton: A. Wilson, W. Dalton, A. Devins, G. Golter, T. Derbyshire, J. Gibson, R. Wilson, T. Carberry, B. Carberry, C. Pearcey, I. Ewart, A. Pegg, W. Ward, A. Pegg, E. Rhind.

Kettleby: J. Weedon, D. Terry, W. Davis, W. Gillham, L. Davis, T. Rogers, D. Munshaw, D. Munshaw, F. Wist, H. Davis, B. Warlow, W. Attridge.

Kleinburg: A. Thorpe, S. Rowntree, S. Ellis, L. Ellis, W. Roe, D. Hiliard, N. Dicks, W. Rice, W. Bell, M. Hilliard, T. Smithson, R. Bell.

On the alleys

Four shot-makers hit 600 in last week's Office Specialty Officemen's circuit. Tom Scott with 638 (195-225-218) paced the loop. Francis McFarland 626, Jim Cook 618, Ron. Jenkins 605. League standing shows McFarland's team in the lead with 12, Bennitz's 10, Bovair's 9, Burch and Bennett's 6 each, Cook's 5.

Myrtle Dunn highlighted the scoring in last week's Wednesday afternoon ladies' league with a 630 (266-191-173). Over 500 were Iris Morton 545 and Louise Smith 519.

Marian Wardell paced Office Specialty Thursday night ladies' league over the past two weeks with a 529 (172-247-110) mark. Other leading three-game scorers were Marg. Teasdale 513, Ann VandenBergh 506, Barbara Wilson 493, Shirley Wardell 470, Eva Whitfield 470. The gals are looking for suggestions for team names. How about Queens, Pin-up and Dubs?

Something new has been added to the bowling scene. A four-team public school mixed league has been formed. They'll shoot for high scores at the North End Alleys on Saturday mornings. Team captains are Dave Winkworth, Colin Stephens, Ken. Harman and Aubrey Burling. The teams have held a couple of practice sessions and some of scores turned in will shame the older bowling filberts. Neil Lothian and Frank Hollingsworth are the prime movers of the idea and are being assisted by public school teachers.

Bill VanZant highlighted the scoring in last week's Hoffman league action with a 684 (216-234-234). Frank Daniels clipped off a 644, Roy Smalley 598. Press Shop blanked Vorclone 7-0, Sheet Metal nosed out Machine Shop 4-3. League standing reads Machine Shop 33, Sheet Metal and Press Shop tied 29 each, Vorclone tail-enders 21.

Monday Night Ladies' League bowlers were in a high-scoring mood this week. Hester Clark for a second week running (647 last week) highlighted the scoring with 642 (242-220-180). Elsie Cline turned in a 613 (167-221-225) for second. 500 and better bowlers Monday were Flo. Campbell 590, Phil McInnis 589, Mary Osborne 564, Annie Stickland 559, Audrey Stephens 557, Edna McGrath 551, Claire Pollock 537, June Fines 518, Velma Sloss 517, Ag. Gordon 514, Ed. Hall 511, Joyce Day 505, Jeanne Gatti 500.

Four-Fifties and Hot Rods made gains with 3-1 wins over Wildcats and Blue Bonnets. Coons and Jets shared with 2 each. League standing, Coons 21, Blue Bonnets 14, Jets, Wildcats, 450's 13 each, Hot Rods 10.

Myrtle Dunn led the Thursday Night Ladies' scoring with a 615. Other fine individual marks were posted by Betty VanZant 598, Olive Hughson 549, Audrey Holme 525, Helen Tomlinson 523.

Geo. Watt led the scoring in Town Industrial circuit last week with 764 (235-293-236), Roy Keffer 739 (188-277-274). Other top flight individual efforts were turned in by Frank VandenBergh 710, Jack Caradonna 704, Cyril Keats 699, Frank Newton 692, Chas. Tugwell 688, Bill Dunn 663, Joe Calvert 659, Reg. Wilson 652, Walt Groves 637, Milt Wesley 634, Bert Ridout 632, John White 629, John Shedlowick 628, Moe Hall 624. Three sweeps recorded as Meteors, Office Specialty and Hillsdale Dairy hung crepe for Newmarket Dairy, Turkey Catchers and Dixon's. Legion, Hisey's and Clover Kickers scored 3-1 wins over Combines, Denne's and Metal Workers.

'D' Team For Aurora?

With prospects of nearby junior "C" opposition practically nil, Aurora will likely seek a junior "D" rating and grouping according to manager Andy Closs. Aurora is eligible for "D" rating under present O.H.A. population requirements.

The team will be decked out in traditional Aurora colors, orange and black. The sweaters are now on order and Jim Wilson, local hardware man, is footing the bill. Executive of the Aurora club has now been completed. Jim Wilson is president, John Coulson secretary and Ernie Ferris treasurer. Andy Closs is manager and that popular citizen of Woodbridge, Charlie Rowntree, is coach.

Keswick Plans Five Teams

The recently appointed executive of the Keswick Hockey Club, headed by Claude Pollock, has been working overtime over the past couple of weeks getting their house in order for the hockey campaigns ahead. Five teams are expected to be operating under Keswick colors this winter.

List includes bantam, midget and juvenile entries in the O.M.H.A., a senior O.R.H.A. team and a ladies' hockey team. The latter team will be entered in the North York Ladies' league. Jack Mundy has been named manager and Gord. Hare coach.

Present indications point to a fairly strong O.R.H.A. team to represent Keswick. Geo. Bradshaw has been named manager, but the coach hasn't been selected yet. Pat Morrissey is manager of the bantams and Harold VanWyck coach, Royden Connell has accepted the coaching post with the juveniles and Edwin Mahoney is manager. A manager and coach for the midget entrant hasn't been named yet.

LINDSAY "MUSKIES" TONIGHT

Newmarket Spitfires will further brush up on their conditioning exercises with an exhibition bout against Lindsay "Muskies" here tonight. Lindsay have an intermediate A rating and the game should give the local fandom a chance to see how the Spits perform against a team in their own O.H.A. classification. Game time is 8.30 p.m.

BETHEL

(Too late for last week)

The snow and cold weather has the farmers hustling their stock home from pasture.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pegg opened their lovely new home to friends and neighbors Friday evening. Some 35 guests spent a most enjoyable evening. Rev. E. Nichol dedicated the home. Mrs. O. Smith sang, "Father, Bless This House." A dainty lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fairbairn, Keswick, and Mr. and Mrs. O. Smith, Belhaven, had tea with Mr. and Mrs. C. Cryderman.

HASHMAN AWARD

For Doolittle On Defence

Your Hashman has received the green light from Trevor Dakin, Roxy, Theatre manager, to continue to cast his eagle eye among the hockey commotions for the Roxy Theatre pass and Hashman award winner during the winter semester. We'll select our weekly awardees from the Spits, Closs-Rowntree Aurora Cubs, King-Vaughan, Newmarket and District and North York Ladies Leagues.

Last week marked the opening ruckus in the King-Vaughan and Newmarket and District. Outstanding figure in the first week's scrimmaging was Loring "Lonnie" Doolittle. .The ex-Aurora Indian scalper is out with King in King-Vaughan warfare. His terrific belting job on defense paced King to a 3-2 win over Bolton, making King's start in the loop a winning one. Dooie marked up a tying goal and played practically the whole game. .That's why he's on the books for Hashman award this week.

Hotelmen, Flyers Win

Surprise winners and a pair of rugged "blood and thunder" contests started the Aurora Town League away Tuesday. In the curtain raiser, a smashing three-goal second period drive tacked onto a first period marker plus super-fine netminding from Jimmy Murray enabled the Hotelmen to ease home with a 4-3 win over the highly rated Merchants.

Merchants came alive in the final round to pot three. It was one short of a tie. Doug Fisher, Ted Cameron and Tommie Brodie hit for pay-dirt for the Merchies. Goals by John O'Mahoney, Chas Southwood, Norm Egan and Art White gave the Hotelmen their victory edge.

In the nightcap, Victory Flyers shovelled home four goals in the middle round and stood off a desperate Ditch Digger assault in the final round to gain a 6-4 decision over the defending champs. Dave Richardson with two, Howie Timbers, Jack Baber, Bill Kingdon and Joe Lundy were the Vandorf goal-getters. Grant Dawson, Charlie Sutton, Hal. Stephenson and Mickey Sutton were the Diggers on target. Bill Hammond was a standout in the Vandorf strings.

Ditch Diggers: R. Brown, T. Sutton, M. Sutton, T. Barrager, E. MacDonald, F. Young, B. Seaton, G. Dawson, R. Smith, C. Sutton.

Victory Flyers: W. Hammond, D. Brown, F. Hartwick, H. Timbers, C. Ellas, J. Lundy, D. Richardson, W. Kingdon, E. Richardson, D. Dinner, A. Lloyd, C. Stevenson, H. Richardson, J. Davis.

Merchants: R. Starkey, R. Simmons, B. Dawson, D. Fisher, E. Rose, T. Brodie, D. Holman, R. Rose, S. Patrick, G. Chapman, T. Cameron, L. Philips, B. Rose, W. McClenny, E. Summers.

Aurora Jr. Recruits

First returns would indicate Andy Closs and Charlie Rowntree have rounded up a bunch of scrappers to represent Aurora in junior hockey this term. The Cubs got their season underway Tuesday with a visit to Nobleton for an exhibition contest.

Trailers 5-1 at the midway mark of the second period, the Closs - Rowntree - Wilson kiddies came out of their scoring doldrums to gain a 7-5 win over Nobleton Juniors. When Aurora did get the pressure applied Andy Closs Jr. rifled in two goals to spearhead the drive, Bob Forhan, Elmo Philips, Joe Gasko and Bobbs Cook sniped one each.

Ken Ham led Nobleton with two, Jim Patton, Jack Woods and Bruce Wallis with one. The teams will go back at it in Aurora arena Friday at 8.30 p.m.

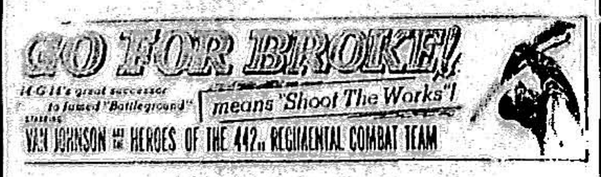

NOBLETON VISITS AURORA

Aurora and district fans who have been anxious to see the Closs-Rowntree Aurora Jrs. in action against strong opposition will have their chance tomorrow (Friday) evening in the Aurora arena. Nobleton Juniors will be the visitors. Game time is 8.30 p.m.

Haskett's HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

Did you miss the opening pair of town league hassles? They were classic tussles. Monday's jam and jab sessions are biggest two bits worth of hockey you can find anywhere.

Mounties all but measured Regents for crepe. Vandorf, after a slow start, made it mighty interesting for the Specialty men before it was over.

There's just enough good players out there to give any district intermediate B club a gallop: goalies, Handy Andy Andrews, Howie Peterman; defense, Fink Tunstead, Bob Dixon (Mount), Gord. Bone, Lowell Waller, Doug. Terry (Mount); three front strings, Stan. Gibbons, "Motts" Thoms, Barney Pearson — Herb. Cain, Bobbie Smith, Cliff Gunn — Bruce Townsley, Doug. Ross, Dave Couch. Bring on Bradford or Sutton eh? Would be quite an idea to stack our winners against Stouffville Bush circuit, Aurora Town league and King-Vaughan winners for the blood-and-thunder championship of North York. Might create a stir in the spring. Now's the time to get cracking on the idea.

Spitfire scouts please note. Hack Cain was out shooting and scoring for Regents Monday. Herb, on the office staff at General Electric, is playing for the C.G.E.'s in the Electric league at Ravina. Y. F. DeBoe, former Czech Oylmpic hockey man now living in the Aurora vicinity, worked the Mount Albert defense shift with Bob Dixon. Spits brass could do worse than talk turkey with the aforesaid Mr. Dixon. Latter showed plenty of moxie and proved he knew his way around the rink in Monday game. He's supposed to hail from the Cookstown area.

At the moment the Specialty atomic front wall of Stan. Gibbons, Motts Thoms and Barney Pearson are shading other front running trios in goal scoring, but Hack Cain, Bob Smith, Cliff Gunn combo are bound to make it interesting ere long. WHO'S GOT THE FASTEST SHOT IN HOCKEY? Well here's one for the books. Ken. "Motts" Thoms let fly a whistler at the Vandorf cage Monday. It struck home. When the biscuit was finished out it had split down the middle.

They're knocking off the goal-keepers faster than they can be produced. Your scribe has counted five who have been injured already this season, four in pre-game or practice sessions, one in an actual contest. What's the answer. A mask? In today's slap bang, scramble happy hockey net-minders are fair target for sersened shots, high sticks and what have you.

Aurora Town League opened Tuesday with a pair of rough out with the Hotelmen and has be a busy man this year; he's blocking shots in the Hotelmen twinery and doing a grand job of getting the league organized. Ron. Simmons, who the Spits' executive would like to nail, gave out for the the Merchants in Tuesday's tussle. Bill Patrick, who was going great guns in the Spits' early practices, is out wit hthe Hotelmen and has apparently given up ideas for wearing Spits' colors.

Aurora Jrs. Look Strong

Aurora juniors, fast taking on the appearance of a rugged, fast skating hockey machine, will stage home games on Friday evenings at the Aurora arena. Manager Andy Closs hasn't received definite advice as to grouping as yet. This should be forthcoming from the O.H.A. in the near future.

Coach Charlie Rowntree pared the squad last week to 16 hopefuls and has just about decided on the roster for this season. Thirty-two trainees originally clambered over the boards for the initial trials. Two net-minders, Ken "Joe" Burke and Paul Maguire, have been kept around for further inspection.

The five-man defense corps consists of Bob Hanna, Grant Winter, Walt Fines and Elmo Phillips. Manager Andy Closs expects rugged blue-line bouncer Chris Wansborough will be out in the near future to complete the rear-guard. Up-front, three smart attacking formations are beginning to take shape. Andy Closs Jr. is expected to set up the plays for Bob Forhan and Aub. "Pepper" Martin. A second line is Joe Gasko and flankers Bobbs Cook and Grant Edwards. Keith Collings, Bradford flash, will center a lively third line with Don Clayton and Don Egan on the wings.

Closs-Rowntree kiddies will branch out into exhibition contests against Nobleton Journalor D's this week.

Postponed Indefinitely

The proposed clash of Fred Speer's undefeated N.H.S. senior football machine and Lou Lanier's Pickering College Firsts has been postponed by weather. The game was to be played in aid of the floodlight fund last Wednesday at Pickering Sports Field.

Pickering have stowed away their football gear for the season in favour of hockey sticks and the game will not be played this year. The floodlight fund, however, is expected to benefit considerably from the pre-game ticket sale as most purchasers have signified their intentions of allowing their purchase to go through as a donation to the floodlight fund. The early advent of winter conditions has also shelved plans for floodlight football for this season but next year it is hoped an earlier start can be made and the lights turned on to allow a larger contingent of local fans to witness the game.

Miami Greens Draw

The Miami Green bowlers are starting to get into stride for the fall and winter scraps. The official opener for this season was held last week. The draw for the initial trebles tournament has been completed with 14 teams entered. Group one skips are Tommy Scott, Bruce Gibson, Andy Murdison, Del. Gibney, T. F. Doyle, Vaughan Goring and Chas. Willis. Group two skips are Horace Cumber, Ray Jelley, Ken. Bain, Geo. Hudson, Gene McCaffrey, Bob Pritchard and Frank Brammer.

Trebles play started this week and runs through to Dec. 4. Finals will be staged on Dec. 7. Miami Green has a membership of over 60.

Plans 10 Minor Teams

Aurora minor hockey plans are starting to take shape reports assistant recreation director Bill Mundell. There will be at least 10 teams doing business. Aurora will have a representative in the midget and bantam O. M. H. A. series. Bill Mundell is expected to assume the coaching duties for both teams when O.M.H.A. action beckons in late December or early 1952.

a four-team bantam circuit is being lined up at present. All games in the latter two leagues will be played on Saturday mornings. The recreation commission will sponser the four pee-wee teams. As yet a full list of sponsors and coaches for the bantam teams hasn't been secured.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Mechanics' Hall Reopened For Original Purpose Of Community Activities

Yesterday week we had a telephone call from Mr. Archie Cousins asking us if we would like to look over the newly-decorated Mechanics' Hall, in company with Mr. Charles Peterson. Having been their guests in the old home of the Lions club, we were glad to receive their invitation to look over what is to be the new Lions home. In so short a time we were agreeably surprised to see how much renovation work has been completed.

For reasons that we need not recapitulate here, in case some morose critic is moved to say that we are repeating ourselves, we have a rather sentimental feeling for the Mechanics' hall. It is the only community centre of which Aurora can boast, and we think that in time, in the excellent care of the Lions club, it will become a community centre which will justify the boast.

The Mechanics' hall is an old building, erected in the year 1881. But it is a substantial solid building, and one that would cost a large sum of money to build today. All that it needs is further renovation, and the Lions club can be depended on to take care of that. So far they have worked wonders in renovation work. The new ceiling looks good, and the newly-painted walls look good.

It would have been a thousand pities if the Mechanics' hall had been turned over to other uses than those for which it will in future be dedicated. It has a long and wonderful history. It was not only a community centre where local plays were performed by Aurora amateurs, but within its historic wall the voices of some of Canada's greatest orators have been heard. It is in fact one of Aurora's historic landmarks.

Official Opening

What could be described as the official opening took place on Friday night, Nov. 9, when a packed house welcomed a play presented by the 50-50 club of Aurora United church. The comfortable seating capacity of the hall is about 350 and there were no vacant seats. A larger number could be accommodated in the hall if necessary, but the former figure is normal seating, without inconvenience.

The play, "Don't Darken My Door," was not true to its somewhat frightening title since it was a light comedy in three acts. Mr. Peterson, the immediate past president of the Lions club, played humorously on this title when he spoke after the performance of the comedy.

The fine ovation given to the cast at the end of the play was proof of the great enjoyment experienced by the audience; and the tribute was well-won. The cast, composed of Charles Copland, Lois Sedore, Rowland Moddle, Grace Babcock, Earl Scott, Helen McIntyre, Isobel Miller and Florence Murray, distinguished itself, and it would be invidious on our part to attempt anything more than to say that each member of it played his or her part with convincing success.

What we can say is that we have heard many tributes paid to the performance of the play, and all associated with it should know that it is rated as a great success. We have heard people say that they spent a thoroughly happy evening, and the 50-50 club are to be sincerely congratulated.

These congratulations should go also to Mrs. Dorothy Bowman of Newmarket, who directed the program. It is readily conceded that without her experience, knowledge and enthusiasm, the success of which we have spoken could not have been realized.

Controversy Might Result

We have also heard tributes paid to those members of the Lions club who worked so hard in a short space of time to put the interior of the hall into the shape that the audience found it. That work has certainly paid off in attaining an excellent interior appearances.

As for the suggestions, however, that there is to be a change in the name of the Mechanics' hall, we hope the proposers will go slow, for old names die hard. For more than 70 years the citizens of Aurora have known their community centre as the Mechanics' hall, and it would be extremely regrettable if the old familiar name were completely eliminated. There is everything in a name.

If any change of name is decided on by the new owners, we hope they will hold on to some part of the historic title of Mechanics' hall. Lions Community Hall would sound very good. But not "Lions Den." That would sound more frightening than "Don't Darken My Door." Moreover, the Lions club obtained the building at a token price on the understanding that the hall would be used, in part, as a community centre.

To re-name the hall as the "Lions Den", or any such partisan title, would suggest a monopoly of possession, which would be contrary to the spirit and the letter of the conditions of the arrangement between the town and the Lions club. We suggest leaving the name, Mechanics' hall, as it is, in tribute to the memory of the Aurorians who built it for use as a community centre. By so doing controversy would be avoided.

To change the name of the Mechanics' hall would undoubtedly provoke criticism, especially among the large number of Aurora's old-timers. Criticism and controversy would, we know, be the last things that the Aurora Lions club would desire. It is fraternalism that Lions stand for.

Retiring Minister

After long years of devoted ministerial service, the Rev. A. R. Park announces his impending retirement from the pastorate of the Aurora Baptist church, which he has held here for the past 14½ years. The Rev. Mr. Park has had a remarkably long ministerial career. Well-preserved and in the best of health, his appearance belies the long stretch of the years.

It is hard to believe that he was ordained as much as 53 years ago, his ordination taking place at Forest, Ontario, in June, 1893. He began preaching in his student days and over that long march of time has rarely had what may be called "a day off." This wonderful record is due to the enjoyment of robust health, attributable in large part to a background of long-lived ancestors.

Mr. Park's retirement will not take place until the end of the year, and for that occasion, and during the intervening period, he has prepared a complete schedule of symbolic sermons dealing with the life of Christ. The first of these was prepared for Sunday, Nov. 11, its title being "I am the Good Shepherd." The last of the series will be preached on December 30, entitled, "Imperishable Wealth of Blessing for All."

A very cordial welcome is extended for these valedictory services at the Aurora Baptist church, at 11 o'clock in the mornings, and at 7 in the evenings.

Hunter Returns

Jack Pennock is home from his annual hunting expedition, which this year took place in the Temagami district. He has been away about 10 days and reports that the weather was extremely wintry.

The party was composed of about a dozen, including members from Toronto and Buffalo. In spite of the bad weather, frozen lake, and winter travel hazards, Jack reports that the party bagged some dozen deer.

He is now settling down to the less spectacular, not to say less hazardous, tonsorial engagements of his barbering store on Main street.

LEARNING THE HARD WAY

The ban on the freedom of the press to see the file of council business, imposed by instructions of Mayor Bell, has been removed. We are once again free to go to the town hall and ask the clerk for the folder of council business, and to make what quotations we choose from it. Mayor Bell has had to climb down from his dictatorial pedestal.

We were advised that the Mayor had no legal authority to refuse us access to the folder of council business, since such freedom was given by a unanimous vote of council on July 24, 1950. We had a perfect legal right to have gone to the town hall and asked the town clerk to let us see the folder, and that town employees could not legally have refused our request. We had no desire, however, to make a fuss. Rather, we preferred to wait until council issued its own orders to the Mayor.

This it has now done in no uncertain terms, the only waverer as far as we could gather being Reeve Cook. Whether Reeve Cook was quite sure in his own mind on the matter only he himself knows. But it seemed to us that he was inclined to move a motion for the rescinding of the previous resolution of council. Had he done so his difficulty would have been to find a seconder.

While we regret that council took no action on such an important matter as the restriction of the freedom of the local press (not to mention its own earlier resolution) until a delegation appeared, we congratulate the majority of its members on doing the right thing by the press and the citizens. Although their action was belated, they finally stood by their former resolution.

A WELCOME TO AURORA

We take much pleasure in welcoming to Aurora the new recreation director and arena manager, Mr. P. E. Perryment, and his wife and family. He takes up his positions with a record of many successes over the years in recreational and welfare work, and with the highest credentials. At first contact one is impressed by Mr. Perryment's genial personality; and there is no doubt that he is the right man in the right place.

The possibilities at the arena are very great, where a revival of interest in the rink is very much needed. The combination of the long experience of the new manager and the enthusiasm of his young and popular assistant, Bill Mundell, should be a guarantee of fine future results. This newspaper, which reaches into almost every home in Aurora, extends best wishes to the newly-appointed manager and his assistant.

We trust that Mr. and Mrs. Perryment and their family will experience health and happiness in their new location here in Aurora.

THE METERS

Mr. Hulse's charge that the meters were installed to control traffic and not to provide revenue for the town will cause a considerable amount of comment. We remember very well that those who, like Mayor Bell and Councillor Fielding, ardently strove for the putting in of meters, argued that they would prove a paying proposition.

In other words, they would produce revenue for the town. If, as Mr. Hulse maintains, they were installed mainly for the purpose of controlling traffic a new tide of objections to their presence is sure to arise. People will say, and say rightly, that to crowd the sidewalks with such unsightly objects as meters for no other reason than to control traffic is another example of weakness on the part of a majority in council.

The arguments of those who opposed the meters will gain new strength. Those arguments were that if the former parking regulations had been carried out there would have been no need for meters. Mr. Hulse's contention has given a new angle to the disputations.

AURORA HYDRO COMMISSION

Mayor Bell told council at the time of the hydro discussions that the chairman of the commission, Mr. George Baldwin, had tendered his resignation and that it had been accepted. It was understood that Mr. Baldwin would agree to carry on until the end of the year subject to the "over-the-line" wall and the canopy being left where they were. A vote was taken on it and when Councillor Fielding repudiated her own former motion, the hydro commission got its way.

An end to such pusillanimous weakness should be made by the election to office of a competent successor to Mr. Baldwin, preferably someone with no former associations either with council or the hydro. It is quite apparent that such a successor will need a will of his own, giving strong government to the hydro. The first thing needed will be enforcement of the building by-laws upon the new hydro building; and the establishment of the fact that the hydro is a public and not a private concern.

COUNCIL HIGHLIGHTS

Snow And Ice On Kennedy St. Could Ease Council Problem With Meter Troubles Ahead

The council meeting of November 5 was one of the most interesting, and, for a number of reasons, exciting we have attended this year. Quite a few things were "blown up", the Mayor's ban on the press and the Gray Coach Lines "parking tax" among them. Over in the Old Country on this same evening they were letting off fire-crackers and lighting bonfires in memory of the failure of Guy Fawkes to blow up the Houses of Parliament.

In England, November 5 was Guy Fawkes night; in Aurora it was the town council night. Fire-crackers were going off in both directions. Drs. Boulding and Henderson were back again, needling the council to get those sewers in on Kennedy street. The snag on Monday night was the failure of the engineer's department to send in another report, so the Kennedy street boys were stuck!

Dr. Henderson had just gotten underway when he learned that the report wasn't in. The clerk turned over the papers in his folder; but the report was just not there. We thought the Dr. was going to get mad, since we fancied we saw a darkening shadow creep over his fine forehead. He hesitated for a moment and then said he would himself put in a phone call and ask about the report. But neither he nor Dr. Boulding ever came back.

Before they get back the probabilities are that Kennedy street will be sealed in ice. What a godsend that would be for the council! You simply cannot put in sewers when the ground is frozen. Contradictory as it may sound, the frozen ground on Kennedy street would let the council out of the argumentative clutches of Drs. Boulding and Henderson. We have a feeling that council is somewhat scared of Doctors Boulding and Henderson. Why, we shall never know.

You must hand it to those Kennedy street boys. When they start out on a campaign they never let go. They keep at it all the time. The council had better pray hard for snow and ice. If their prayers are answered we shan't see Drs. Boulding and Henderson again until the spring. The sewers will (so to speak) be shelved until the robins return. Then when the hydro wall is put right in the spring (make another bet), the Kennedy street sewers may go in.

A Startling Delegation!

Members of council sat up in surprise when a gentleman by the name of Everett Kerr, speaking in quiet but incisive tones, asked Mayor Bell on whose authority he had refused the press access to the folder of council business? Mayor Bell appeared momentarily nonplussed, and asked the speaker for his name.

Mayor Bell said the instructions were given on his authority, and he thought they were in order. The office staff was untrained, he said.

Mr. Kerr pressed the issue in closer and more effective terms, and after stating his case for the delegation returned to his chair. There the matter was left until a later stage in the proceedings.

Gray Coach Lines

Represented by Mr. Ab. Hulse, the Gray Coach Lines were there to make war on what was described as an unfair and illegal parking tax on their services. Mr. Hulse made a lengthy and penetrating onslaught on the proposed tax which, he said, would have to be borne by the local agent, Mr. Fowler, and not by the company. It was pointed out that the agent receives a 10 percent commission, and the annual parking tax of over $300 would have to come out of his personal commissions.

That, however, was an incidental rather than a major argument put forward by Mr. Hulse, and supported later by the vice-president of the company, Mr. W. D. Foster, and superintendent of operations, Mr. J. C. Barker. The major argument was that under the present by-law council had no power to impose a parking tax.

It was claimed that the buses do not park but only stop to allow passengers to get on and off. That, it was claimed, was not parking in a legal sense.

It is apparent that if such an argument is legally supportable there is going to be a new and vigorous crop of troubles ahead for council. Take, for example, the case of the carrier who halts his delivery van while he runs across the street to leave a carton of groceries at the home of a customer. Will he get a ticket for "parking"? Or the taxi owner who "stops" for a couple of minutes by a meter while his passenger comes from the house. Will the taxi-driver be parking or just stopping?

Mr. Hulse gave an interpretation in regard to meters that was new to us. He maintained that the real reason why meters were installed was not to provide revenue for the town but to control traffic. We wonder what view the meter company will take of that interpretation? Traffic control could have been effected by the simple method of enforcing the parking by-law. Meters were certainly recommended as a revenue medium.

It is apparent that council is now on the horns of another major dilemma.

Press Ban Removed

Mr. Everett Kerr of Cousins' Drive did a service for the citizens of Aurora when he came to council on Monday night, Nov. 5, to protest against the imposition of the ban on press access to council's file of business. A quietly-spoken man, Mr. Kerr's questions were concise and direct.

He asked Mayor Bell on what authority he had acted in giving instructions that the press could not see the council folder of business? When the mayor replied that he had acted on his own authority, in what he described as the interests of an untrained office staff, Mr. Kerr continued to press the point by asking if the mayor considered his action either democratic or legal?

When the matter came up later in the evening, some strong words were spoken by Councillor Corbett, the mover of the resolution of July 24, 1950, who said he still stood by that motion which allowed the press to check on the council business which was being reported.

Discussion Continued

After Mr. Corbett had spoken, the deputy-reeve said he had been waiting for an opportunity to raise this matter. Mr. Murray said he was all in favor of the press having full freedom to report council business, and considered the mayor's action was wrong. Council should stand by the resolution it passed in 1950.

Councillor Jones said he failed to see what trouble was being caused to the office staff, as all they had to do was to hand over the folder. He voted for the previous resolution and would stand by it.

Councillors Gundy and Pringle reminded the mayor that the resolution on the books could only be changed by another motion rescinding it, while Mrs. Fielding said that if the press were not allowed to see the records of council business, people would be saying that councillors were like the communists, who wanted to keep the people from knowing the facts.

Mayor Bell said he would like the matter held over until the office staff was better trained; and Reeve Cook added that if the press was adding to the work of the office staff he would be willing to move a motion rescinding the previous resolution.

On the question of whether a vote should be taken, Councillor Pringle said there was already a resolution on the books, and there was no need to take a vote. Council then agreed to drop the matter. The resolution of July 24, 1950, giving the press access to records of council business, would stand.

Land Annexation

Mayor Bell again introduced the subject of land annexation by council. A committee composed of Mayor Bell, Reeve Cook, Councillors Gundy and Pringle, was set up to investigate the matter. The mayor stated that if it could be proved that such land was necessary for the expansion of Aurora, favorable consideration would be given to such a need even though the adjoining townships might submit objections.

Heart-Warming Movie Coming November 19

The present year has provided the greatest amount of movie variety in the history of Aurora's Royal theatre. Again and again the popular manager of the theatre, Mr. Clifford Griffiths, has had the pleasure of reporting packed houses for shows featuring thrilling drama, adventure, music, comedy, and just honest-to-goodness love stories.

It has been the ambition of Mr. Griffiths to make his theatre known in Aurora, and in the surrounding districts, for the best possible types of entertainment. That he has succeeded in that admirable ambition has been proven again and again, so that the Royal has come to have a reputation for programs not excelled outside of the city.

He is now bringing to the Royal what has been described as one of the truly great stories in the history of the movies, entitled "One Foot in Heaven." Mr. Griffiths has such personal confidence in this splendid human story that he has booked it for a five days' showing. He believes that many of his patrons will wish to see it a second time; and that many others who are not regular movie-goers will want to see this picture.

A True History

"One Foot In Heaven" has been made into a movie from a best-selling book by Hartzell Spence, and the story has been composed from events in the life of his own father, who was a country minister, and the author's family. Thus from first to last the story rings true; as true as the life-story of all who come to the Royal to see this magnificent screen adaptation of genial family life.

The picture will be shown from Monday, Nov. 19, to Friday, Nov. 23, inclusive.

This life-story begins in a tiny town in the State of Iowa, with the young minister and his bride taking a charge in a dismal wreck of a home which has to be rearranged not only to please the young wife, but to please the tastes of every woman in the congregation. As for salary, the youthful incumbent and his wife soon learn that this will be payable if and when the struggling members of the church can accumulate it.

Their difficulties are overcome, and as the years go by many other trials and troubles arise. How these are met and dealt with belongs to the whole life-fabric of the story itself. It can be said, however, that this is a story of humor, warmth, and of that courageous spirit which made the ups and downs of parsonage life a joy rather than a tribulation.

The hero of this heart-warming story is William H. Spence, a medical student in Canada, who in the year 1904 felt he had a call to the ministry. One of the most thrilling and moving episodes in the whole chapter of events is the realization of the day when father had just finished a new church, and entered into a brand new parsonage, only to quite both of these at a further call of duty.

A Great Cast

A magnificent cast was chosen for this movie, at the head of which are Fredric March and Martha Scott. Acting as technical adviser in the production of the picture was the Rev. Norman Vincent Peale, pastor of the Marble Collegiate church of New York.

Of the many fine pictures seen at the Royal during 1951, it may be forcast that patrons will vote "One Foot In Heaven" as the greatest of them all. We urge our readers not to miss this superb movie.

Mount Pisgah News

Four children were christened at Mount Pisgah United Church on Sunday, Nov. 11. They were William Edward Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Les. Smith, Muriel Aileen Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Scott, and Fern Roxina and Wray John Harry children of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gamble.

Mr. Emmerson Stiles, Toronto, was a weekend visitor of Mr. and Mrs. John Ash.

Mrs. L. Howden visited her daughter, Mrs. Jones, in Montreal for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kays visited the latter's sister at Port Hope on Sunday, Nov. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gamble and family visited Mrs. Gamble, Sr., Toronto, last Saturday.

WI NEWS

Mount Albert branch met at the home of Mrs. G. MacPherson, Thursday afternoon, Nov. 8. Mrs. Herb Harman was in the chair. The meeting opened with "O Canada", the "Ode", and Mary Stewart Collect.

Fourteen members answered the roll call, "Labor Saving Devices on the farm". The meetings are to be held in the Oddfellows' Hall during the winter months.

Mrs. Harold Broderick read a letter on Greek relief and explained the need for donations and clothing. Anyone caring to help can leave donations at Mrs. Synder's, before the next meeting.

Coupons from McQuaids will be appreciated by Mrs. Steeper to help with the silverware for the hall.

Mrs. Ken Mitchell, convenor of "Agriculture and Canadian Industries," took charge of the program. Mrs. Harold Broderick read a poem "Pep talk to the pullets", and Ruth Rutledge gave a piano selection "Falling Waters".

Mrs. Mitchell gave an interesting paper on "Canadian Federation of Agriculture". The Federation was organized in Toronto in November, 1935, during the Royal Winter Fair, with 75 farm leaders from all parts of Canada. The Federation advocates increased production, commodity agreements, stability of markets, floor prices, and economic security for agriculture co-operatives.

Ruth Rutledge played "Sonatina in F", and the meeting closed with God Save The King.

A dainty lunch was served.

Water Conservation

The editor: North York water supply should be a paramount thought of every man, woman and child of this large county and adjacent townships. It is later than you think, for we who depend upon artesan wells for our water must realize just how serious our position is in respect to the ever diminishing supplies which are drying up at such an alarming date. Leisurely contemplation of this problem will not do, we must do some fast thinking and get the best top flight engineering advice possible and when this advice is received we must have their plans implemented just as soon as it is humanely possible.

If we go on as we are now it is only a matter of months before severe water rationing will have to be put into effect. We must take steps immediately to conserve ou rpresent water resources, not only for municipalities but for agricultural purposes as well. It is just that serious that if we do not do something right away, the cost of our neglect will be in millions of dollars and away will go the fine economic position we have fough so hard to obtain.

The water supply must not under any circumstances be a political issue, The Upper Holland River Authority should start to function right away and I respectfully suggest they should have both the federal and provincial governments to aid them to bring a project of this magnitude to a successful conclusion. We must have an accurate estimate of our existing water sources, made by qualified water engineering experts, and at the same time, we must explore thoroughly the possibilities of bringing wate rfrom Lake Simcoe. This huge body of water should be utilized by this generation and not left fo rsome remote time in the future. The need is now.

For our own good, it is our duty to get behind the Upper Holland River Authority and see to it that this body be given enough funds with which to carry on this important work from which each and everyone of us will benefit.

I wish at this time to commend the editor of the Era and Express, for the long fight he has carried on to bring about organized water conservation, and I feel at long last we are going to see some definite action and results. This is a clear call to personal interest and duty.

S. Gordon Hoffman,

From Our Office At Doan Hall: What Is A "Home-Town" Paper?

We have received many congratulations on the success achieved by Aurora News Page in its publicity campaign for the removal of the press ban imposed by Mayor Bell. Actually, our own part was to make the situation known to our readers and not let the matter drop until the ban was removed.

Restriction of the legitimate uses of the press seemed to us so serious a matter that we expected members of council to have brought it up immediately it was brought to their notice. That did not happen in the course of many weeks. In the end council took action following the questioning of the mayor by a public-spirited citizen, who was expressing the disquiet felt by large numbers of his fellow-taxpayers.

Mr. Everett Kerr, who resides on Cousins' Drive, formerly resided at Leaside. Until his removal to his present home he and his family were for several years at the 103-acre farm known as Long Acres, situated south of Aurora, which he farmed as a hobby. In his early forties, Mr. Kerr is a stock-broker and has been on the Toronto Stock Exchange for over 24 years.

It was he who sparked the town council into action by the questions he asked on Monday evening, Nov. 5, resulting in a victory for the freedom of the press for which this newspaper has campaigned

The "Home Paper"

One outstanding fact in connection with the campaign for the freedom of the press was the complete failure of the other newspaper in town, which assumes to itself the title of the "home-paper", to take any part in defending the rights of the citizens to have detailed reports of council business.

Actually the other paper has no more claim than Aurora News Page to call itself the "home-town paper." We pay taxes here for offices where our Aurora News Pages are prepared; and the other paper also rents offices. Our Pages are printed in Newmarket, and the other paper is printed at Brampton and formerly at Oshawa. We live and maintain a home here in Aurora. By such tests, ours is a home-town paper.

It would not occur to us even to mention such matters if it were not for the bombastic croakings of the other paper, and its assumption of a superiority which its columns fail to support. It is true that we do not cut such capers with heavy headlines as the other paper, or make such a fuss over trifles to the neglect of more important home news.

Readers of Aurora News Pages have realized that our presentation of Aurora news is absolutely independent of back-stage strings, and that we write without fear or favor. We do not trim the news to suit the purposes of cliques and factions with an axe of their own to grind. We write in the interests of all of the citizens and not for just a few of them.

Want To Go To Sunny Cal., Gals?

Shove over men. The women are moving in on the hockey racket. "Pep" Perryment, newly installed recreation director and arena managar at Aurora, reports receipt of a letter from California, that the California Hockey League is seeking lady hockey players in Ontario for a ladies pro loop due to start shortly.

There's an apening for approximately 22 gals from Ontario. Qualifications are that players must be 18-25 years of age, have some knowledge of hockey and ability to skate well. All expenses will be paid to California if selected. Anyone interested is asked to contact Mr. Perryment at the Aurora arena.

If enough interest is manifest in this district, the California League scout will drop into Aurora to give the hockey prospects a trial and interview. Aurora Ladies are having weekly practices Tuesday and there is an opening for more players, advises coach Ken Rose.

ROTARY CLUB HEARS REV. DR. MULLIGAN

Guest speaker at the Aurora Rotary club on Monday, Nov. 12, was the Rev. Dr. Mulligan. In a rapid survey of many down-to-earth Canadian problems, the speaker laid emphasis on the need for a unified rather than a sectional outlook on national questions. One should not think of Canada in terms of Ontario and Quebec, said the speaker, but of the country as a whole.

Dr. Mulligan stressed the need for increased selective immigration, pointing out the great advantages of many and varied skills being incorporated into the national economy. Properly supervised, the speaker considered that such increased immigration was of paramount importance to Canada.

Dr. Mulligan, while pointing out the necessity of technical development, said that we should also pay great attention to the promotion of cultural interests.

At the conclusion of his address, which received close attention, Dr. Mulligan was accorded a hearty vote of thanks.

Rec. Director, Assistant Attend Special Course

P. E. "Pep" Perryment, recent appointee to the recereation director's post at Aurora, and assistant, Bill Mundel, lare attending the Recreation Directors Federation of Ontario classes in Toronto this week. The classes are scheduled to run from Nov. 9 to 17. Al lphases of recreation are on the agenda for discussion.

The program is under the sponsorship of the Community Programs Branch of the Ontario Dept. of Education. Each attendee will receive a recreation directors certificate. There are now approximately 80 recreation directors and assistants in Ontario.

"DON'T DARKEN MY DOOR"

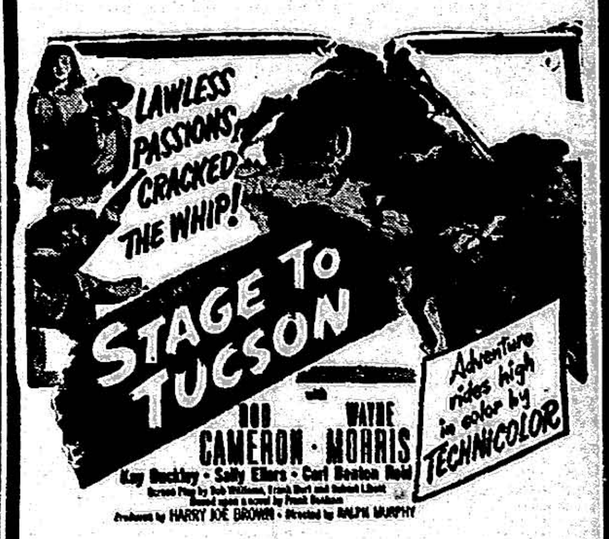

Besides those composing the cast of the comedy, "Don't Darken My Door," performed in the Mechanics' hall on Friday night, Nov. 9, the following also took part in the successful performance: Under-studies, Grover Gage, Betty Hamilton, Alde Bilbrough, Owen Hutchinson, Mary Langman and Shirley Thompson.

The Story Of SHARON

By
ETHEL WILLSON TREWHELLA

This is the twenty-third instalment of a continuing "Story of Sharon" from its founding to the present. The story was written after almost two years of research and will, we believe, be a major contribution to knowledge of the past. The remaining instalments will follow weekly.

The Regional Director of Postal Service, Mr. A. M. Gibson, has very kindly undertaken an extensive research of the Post Office Department to obtain the early history of the Sharon Post Office: "Previous to Confederation the records are incomplete and the information sketchy. Before a post office was established at Sharon, the people of the community were served by the carrier who travelled the route from Georgina to Beaverton, but there is no information as to his, or their, names, nor the means of transportation. It is more than likely he travelled on horseback. Or it may have been that in the very early days it was carried by Indian runners as it was in the district around Barrie." (This last statement is purely speculation.)

"There is also a record of the mail contractor who served that route in 1852. His name was Joseph Sheppard and he was appointed in April of that year. He made three trips a week on horseback, or with a wagon in the summertime and in winter used a cutter or sleigh. He was allowed five hours for the trip and received for his services, 80 pounds a year. As that was before Confederation, the English currency was still in use."

The Newmarket Era of May, 1857, contained notice that "another line of stages began running daily, Sundays excepted, between Hiram Moore's Inn, North Gwillimbury and Newmarket. The stages were promised to arrive in time for passengers to take the morning trains, north and south, and return on arrival of cars from Toronto. Ephraim Traviss, Proprietor."

Early Effort

Still extant is an account of an early effort by the Sharon people to obtain a post office. In July, 1831, 73 landholders and other inhabitants of the township of East Gwillimbury requested the town clerk, John Weddel, to call by public notice, a general town meeting. It was held in the school house at Hope (Sharon) at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. The real purpose of this meeting was camouflaged; it was one of the meetings preceding the Rebellion, and was so largely attended that it was adjourned to the grounds of the Chapel of the Children of Peace. The clerk presided and William Reid acted at secretary.

The report, in part, of this meeting is contained in the Colonial Advocate of Aug. 4, 1831: "The address to His Majesty was agreed upon and read by the secretary. Resolutions and other proceedings read. Jurors appointed were Silas Fletcher, John Weddel, John Lewis, John Reid, Samuel Hughes, John Fletcher and Lewis Powell. The application for a post office was discussed. Abraham Doan, seconded by Murdoch McLeod, Jr., moved that it be resolved that a post office be located at Hope on the travelled post route to Georgina, which would be very advantageous to the people of the township. Again it was moved by Abraham Doan and seconded by Murdoch McLeod, Sr., that it be resolved that this meeting has confidence in Hugh D. Willson, and that it is expedient to petition the department for a post office and that the management be entrusted to him." Much was to take place within the next 10 years before they succeeded in obtaining their post office.

Post Masters

From post office records Mr. Gibson states that "the date of the establishment of the Sharon Post Office was Feb. 6, 1841. The names of the post masters and years of service are: "J. C. Hogaboom, 6 - 2 - 1841 to 15 - 5 - 1866; John T. Stokes, 1 - 7 - 1868 to 6 - 11 - 1884; John Kavanagh, 1 - 2 - 1885 to 28 - 9 - 1903; R. H. Kenyon, 14 - 10 - 1903 to 14 - 7 - 1906; Thomas Watson, 4 - 8 - 1906 to 12 - 1 - 1921; Wm. Arthur Hall, 13 - 1 - 1921 to 3 - 9 - 1923; Percy Browning, 1 - 10 - 1923 to 1 - 10 - 1928; Elmer R. Fry, 22 - 11 - 1928 to April 1943; Mrs. Edith Laura Vernon - 7 - 7 - 1943 . . ."

When John T. Stokes resigned as post master, a new comer might have considered an election to be in the offing, by the speculation and excitement which mounted with the days, in the guessing as to whom would be chosen to fill the vacancy.

The Newmarket Era of April 24, 1857, published the annual report of the Postmaster General. Quoting the salaries paid the various postmasters the editor remarked, "The wonder is that we have not better post offices . . . Sharon Postmaster was paid 17 pounds, 5 shillings and 5 pence."

In March, 1860, the Postmaster General issued orders to all postmasters that there must be no more keeping offices open on Sunday. In April of 1861 the commissions and salaries paid to postmasters were published: Sharon postmaster received $80. 50, with from $2 to $10 allowed for stationery. Signed by Hon. Sydney Smith. Again in 1875 Sharon Postmaster was paid $73.50, plus a commission on money orders of $2.87, and an allowance toward rent and fuel of $16.

Postmaster General

Following the Confederation of all the provinces in 1867 the Dominion government took over all of the post offices and placed them in the charge of a newly appointed Postmaster General. At once the number of post offices was increased and the rates of postage reduced to one third. With this, the first Canadian postage stamp was introduced, and not surprisingly, this latter was not looked upon with favor for previously letters had been paid on delivery. In 1875 the post card came into use. The first cards were much smaller than present day cards. The face of this card was bordered by a blue pattern and a picture of Queen Victoria adorned the right hand upper corner. At the bottom was the inscription, "British, American, bank note, Montreal and Ottawa".

In 1864 a daily line of stages was inaugurnted between Newarket and Sutton, to pass through Sharon, and Mr. Thomas Brown was the proprietor. Another line of stages was instituted between Newmarket and Sutton in 1867, this also to pass through Sharon, but the name of this proprietor has not been found. The daily travel of these stage drivers was hard. It was a long trip from Newmarket to meet the Sutton driver, over roads that in the winter were hazardous from heavily drifted snows, and in the spring and fall these same roads were well-nigh impassable from mud which reached to the wheel hubs. If the stage could not get through the mail was transferred to horse back and it is of outstanding credit to those men that the mail rarely missed being taken through.

Stage Coach

The names of only three of these mail carriers, since Confederation, have been located. The first was Charlie Newburn. He was succeeded by George Stone who served during the '80's. George Stone is remembered by the sleek condition of his horses. He owned three horses which gave each horse one day of rest in three, and always with the stage went a fat, white collie dog. George Stone was followed by Richard Morton. The stage which daily, except Sunday, travelled along the town line and Queen Street, was described as a "democrat", a two-seated light wagon. No protection was provided for the traveller in bad weather, but an ancient skin, known as a buffalo robe, did repel some of the bleak winds. The fare from Newmarket to Sharon was 20c, but many a child was picked up and given a lift. Usually the stage arrived at the Sharon post office about 12 o'clock, and returned approximately at four. The coming of the stage was a matter of interest to each and all along the third concession. Its arrival at Sharon, with its Globes, its Mails, its Worlds, and its Newmarket Eras to which nearly every family subscribed, with the letters and seed catalogues, was an event eagerly awaited. Mrs. Kavanagh, the warm-hearted wife of the post master, understood the arduous journey ahead of the stage driver, and generously provided something nourishing to sustain him on his stormy trip.

Sir Wm. Mulock

The year 1898 marked another epoch in the Canadian postal system. Mr. William Mulock in 1896 became Postmaster General. He at once set out to transform the annual deficit of the Post Office department into a profit. The department was expanded and the postal note system established, and two years later he conferred upon the Canadian people and the British Empire, the accomplished blessing of penny postage. For this he was knighted. His grandson, Col. W. P. Mulock, also was Postmaster General from July 8, 1940, to 1945.

An early post office of Sharon stands in the garden of Mrs. Bertha Phillips, who now uses it as a garage. This is the building in which her grandfather, John T. Stokes, officiated as Postmaster. When John Kavanagh undertook the office it was across the road in the little store kept by Mrs. Kavanagh and himself. This building as a store and post office and a landmark of Sharon, has disappeared - it has been remodelled into a dwelling house. Then upon the retirement of John Kavanagh, the government's postal business was carried on by Mr. R. H. Kenyon; it was in his own store further along the street, where it is still located.

In review of the century's progress and the perfection to which the Canadian postal system has been brought, credit that is unmeasurd is due the postmasters of the rural post offices and their assistants, the drivers of the old stages, for their unfailing dependability and regularity in handling and despatching the Royal Mails. Nowhere is this more applicable than at Sharon. Through all the changes of time and the accomplished wonder of establishment of the postal service to the farthest-flung out-post, it must be conceded that oblivion be the repository of dogmatic criticism of mistakes and shortcomings which belonged to the times as well as to the individual.

How 'The Anchor' Came To The Landing

By W. R. Williams
(in Midland Free Press Herald)

It was commodore Sir James Yeo who issued the order to build a 44-gun wooden frigate at Penetanguishene, and his letter to Sir George Prevost dated Nov. 26, 1814, read in part:

"It is my intention to build a 44-gun frigate to carry 20 long 24-pounders and 24 32-pounder cannon."

"'The Nigara' and 'Nitley' are now taking overboard the guns, shot, anchors, cables, sails, ironwork, and the shipweights. They will proceed to York, and Capt. Collier, whom I mean to employ on this service, will have his officers and crew to assist whenever required. I believe two schooners have already gone around to Penetanguishene Bay from Nottawasaga to cut down timber and clear the ground."

The British government intended this 44-gun frigate to form part of its all-out program to regain the supremacy of the upper Great Lakes that had been lost in the naval battle on Lake Erie on Sept. 10, 1813, at Put-in-Bay.

Commodore Sir James Yeo was appointed to succeed Commodore Barclay who had been killed in the battle of Put-in-Bay.

Late in 1814 the British gained command of Lake Ontario by launching at Kingston the largest wooden warship ever built on fresh water, H.M.S. St. Lawrence, with three decks of guns, larger than H.M.S. Victory, the flagship of Lord Nelson at Trafalgar.

This vessel made one round trip to Fort York before peace was made by the Treaty of Ghent, signed in that Belgian city on December 24, 1814.

The anchor that is now at Holland Landing was unloaded by either the "Niagara" or the "Nitley" at Fork York early in December, 1814. It was loaded on a strong cart and pulled by oxen up Yonge Street as far as Holland Landing.

Owing to ice forming on the Holland River and Lake Simcoe, it was impossible to use a schooner to carry it to the foot of Kempenfeldt Bay where the Nine-Mile Portage began.

It was intended to carry it in an ox-cart over the portage, and place it in a boat to carry it down the Nottawasaga River to the schooner waiting at its mouth, which would in turn, transport it around the Tiny Township peninsula to Penetanguishene Bay.

The guns for the frigate, as well as the shot, cables, sails, ironwork and shipweights remained at Fort York as it was intended to forward them when navigation opened in the spring of 1815. This remark also applies to the two-ton anchor.

Peace came, and relieved all necessity of haste. Although the Treaty of Ghent was signed on Dec. 24, 1814, it was not ratified at Washington until Feb. 17, 1815.

Nevertheless, Great Britain intended to build the 44-gun frigate. In the summer of 1817, William Wilson, the first shipwright at the garrison, built the "Old Red Store" for naval supplies, and then laid the keel for the 44-gun frigate.

It would have been by far the largest warship to be built at the Penetang Naval Establishment, and his hopes were high. How proud he would have been to see her under a full press of sail on Penetang Bay!

He was doomed to disappointment. The Rush-Bagot Agreement was signed in the closing days of 1817, and work on the 44-gun frigate immediately ceased, for it was far in excess of the limitations.

The two-ton anchor remained on the dock at Holland Landing awaiting for the boat that never arrived.

As a matter of fact, it proved to be so much in the way that in 1876 it was moved to its present site in the rural park, where it is well worth the few minutes required for a visit. It weighs exactly 4,004 pounds.

HYDRO RURAL FAMILY MORE THAN DOUBLED SINCE THE WAR

HYDRO now serves 313,285 rural customers—more than double the 156,000 served at the end of the war—bringing electricity and a better way of living to an additional 157,285 Ontario farm, hamlet and village customers.

At the end of the war there were 21,569 miles of rural lines bringing electricity to the rural areas of Ontario. By September, 1951 the miles of line had increased to 37,239. During this period the horsepower demand in the rural areas showed a remarkable increase. The demand at war's end was 132,551 horsepower. By 1950 it had more than doubled to a total of 314,681 horsepower.

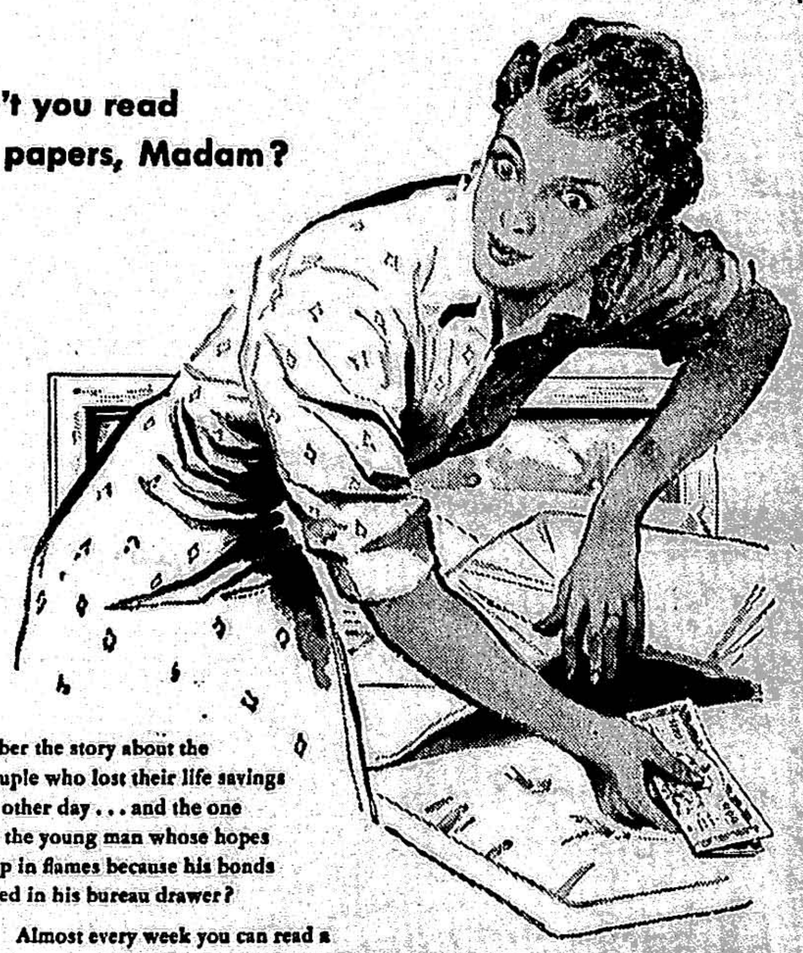

On the farm, Hydro power is a low-cost hired man helping to produce more at a reduced cost. In the home it makes possible the use of modern electrical appliances which lighten work, save time and make life easier for all. Yes, the coming of Hydro to the farm provides a better way of life for thousands of people in the rural areas of the Province.

More correspondence this week, from England and from Philadelphia, The overseas letter is from L. C. Ainsley, D.F.C., of Grimsby, Lincs. He asks for a copy of the Era and Express printed in 1945.

He writes: "The copy in question contained an article concerning an aircraft of the R.A.F. Bomber Command named 'Snow White' which crash-landed in England on returning from a bombing raid over Germany. The tail gunner was a Newmarket lad named Burrows, who was killed in a later raid, and to the best of my knowledge, the article was headed: 'Snow White Goes to Last Resting Place' and goes on to give a description of the crash. The navigator and bomb aimer were Canadians and the pilot was an American.

"I appreciate the fact that the above information is very scant but it is the best I can do after such a long time and I sincerely hope you can be of assistance to me as I am very anxious to obtain a copy of the article for sentimental reasons. You see, I was the pilot and 'Snow White' was 'my' aircraft."

Eugene Burrows was the nephew of Miss Sadie Burrows and was raised in Newmarket. The members of the aircraft took the names of the "Seven Dwarfs" and Eugene was called "Dopey".

We are looking up the article in our files.

Our correspondent in Philadelphia is Mrs. Elmer Starr of Pine Orchard who was attending the Philadelphia General Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends. Her son Francis and his wife, Dorothy, were also present. Included in her letter are clippings from the Philadelphia papers. One refers to her Quaker bonnet "which has all but passed from the Quaker meeting scene." The story quotes Mrs. Starr as saying that in Canada, "the older Friends in our Conservative Meetings have clung to the Quaker plain ways."

But it was not for these personal comments that she sent the clippings, as she emphasizes in her letter, but to stress the vitality of the Society as was demonstrated at the Philadelphia meeting. She speaks of the encouraging spread of the Society and "their concern with and active promotion of goodwill and peace in the world."

It was the 80th trip across the border for Mrs. Starr and the realization of a long desired visit to Philadelphia. She writes that there were six sessions with an average attendance of between three and four hundred people, which is three percent of the membership of the two Philadelphia Yearly Meetings.

The newspaper clippings include a report of the address of Lewis M. Hoskins, new secretary of the American Friends Service Committee, in which he said in part: More and more, the Friends were being turned to for wisdom and judgment in current international affairs.

"We have no inside track nor super judgment but Friends are being asked for their viewpoint because they are considered the one organization which is objective, neutral, and has a religious viewpoint."

The meetings were an opportunity for Francis Starr to meet again acquaintances of his wartime activities in China where he was with the Friends Ambulance Unit. He later served with the Friends Service Committee in India where he met his wife.

SPEED TRAPS AGAIN

We know of nothing more irritating or controversial in Newmarket in recent years than the speed traps. And apparently, we have become target for a major portion of public opinion with the publication of an editorial on the issue last week. Well, that is what editors are for and at least, as even our detractors must admit, they have read the editorial page, a fact which removes the sting from the epithets.

We advocated in our editorial the posting of large signs along Davis Dr., the open patrolling of the street as means to cut down speeding. We were told in no uncertain terms that there were more than enough signs on Davis Dr. at least, to warn the most thick-headed motorists that they were in a 30 mile zone. Yet still they speeded.

But the fact remains that despite speed traps, they continue to speed. We insist that the job of the police is first of all to prevent the crime and second, to catch the offenders. We fail to see what is gained by taking a license number and fining a speeder. The police have caught the offender but they haven't done anything to prevent the crime.

The residents along Davis Dr. are worried about speeding because of the hazard to their children. It would be small satisfaction to get the number of the speeding car short seconds before he struck a child.

Speed traps simply aren't reducing the speeding at the approaches to Newmarket. Other municipalities, including Toronto, post their roads with ample warnings of strict enforcement and make obvious patrols of the roads. Why can't Newmarket at least try out the signs?

As it is now, whenever a speed trap is set up, it nets a number of offenders but accomplishes nothing else. Speed traps plus ample warnings would cut down the number of offenders.

SAFETY AT R.R. CROSSINGS

The collision of a truck and a freight train at the main crossing at Holland Landing, the latest of a number of railway crossing accidents in the district this year, emphasizes the need for a re-survey of the crossings to eliminate hazards. We freely grant that there is an element of blame to the drivers in most railway crossing accidents; there is also a considerable responsibility to the railway. The location of the accidents more than suggests that this responsibility is not being observed.

At Holland Landing, a driver travelling south must ascend a grade to the track and his vision is partially obscured by a hedge. The volume of traffic over the crossing has greatly increased with the more extensive use of the road by summer travellers. Some years ago, a delegation from the Landing tried, unsuccessfully, to have a wig-wag signal installed. Their request should be re-examined.

In Whitchurch township, there are several crossings of doubtful safety. The Whitchurch Federation of Agriculture has tried in vain to have hazards removed. For the most part, all that is involved is a certain amount of grading and clearing at the approaches of the crossings. Considering what this work means in terms of safety, it is difficult to understand why it hasn't been done.

We acknowledge again that a driver approaching a railway crossing bears the responsibility for a clear passage. But until the railways make certain that there is nothing to obstruct the view of a driver, nor any other hazard, they must share a certain amount of the blame for accidents.

CANADIAN WAGE LEVELS

One of the arguments Canadian railway men pressed on behalf of their demands for wage increases last year was that American railway men employed in the same jobs were paid more. This argument was answered by a judge at arbitration by pointing out that American production per capita was about a third more than in Canada, and that since national income is largely dependent upon national production, Canadian workers could not hope to equal American wages.

The same argument as the railway men has been more recently advanced by the steel workers. And the same answer must be given. In the United States, steel production is 180 tons a year for each man employed; in Canada, it is 135 tons.

There is another consideration here, however. While income is determined by production, nonetheless, the Canadian steelworker receives more per ton than his American counterpart. While the Canadian only produces 75 percent as much as the American, he does receive 93 percent as much money as the American so that on a production basis, he is actually better paid.

One of the hold-backs in Canadian production is the lack of market. There can be no increase in production until there is the market for it. One immediate source of buying power is a larger domestic population. Quickest means to that increase is by immigration. Those unions who oppose immigration should consider what it means in terms of increased buying power with subsequent increased production and wages.

ROYAL TOUR

The Royal visitors have left for home and there is not a Canadian who does not wish them an early return to Canada. No such undertaking could have been more successful. Canadians have felt a strong renewal of their faith in the commonwealth connection. But more: the tour has been like a mirror in which Canadians saw a reflection of themselves. What they saw has caused a good deal of thoughtful consideration.

Canadians are not given to introspection. But the change from the first phlegmatic approval of the visitors to the wild enthusiasm with which they were later greeted was more than just the change of locale. Canadians lost their traditional reticence, a mannerism which has caused more than one tinselled star to exclaim with disgust of the "coldness" of Canadian audiences. Canadians were lifted into a state bordering a national hysteria as the tour progressed.

The charm of the visitors accounted for much of this. They captivated whoever saw them; their smiles melted a national restraint. Canadians found a new release, a new medium of expression, in their cheers. We doubt if they will relapse into the habits of the past.

So among all that the visitors have accomplished, we would note this: that they have done what no other visitor has done before, broken through the Canadian reserve and have been rewarded by a rush of affection the like of which has been accorded to no other.

ATOMIC DEVELOPMENT

In our pre-occupation with defence against Russia, we have come to look upon atomic development in terms of bigger and better weapons. Occasionally there is reference to some new use of atomic by-products in medicine and industry, but these occasional items are over-shadowed by military tests in Nevada and gripping accounts of the now familiar "mushroom shaped" cloud.

So it comes as a bit of a shock to learn that the harnessing of atomic power for industrial uses is only a matter of five or ten years away; that atomic powered submarines are only two years away, atomic powered airplanes only five to ten years away. We are, in short, standing on the threshold of a great era of atomic development, not only in the rhetoric of the politician but in the actual facts of the laboratories.

What is Canada's role in this development? Canada has, first of all, the raw material. Right now, it is the third largest producer of uranium. In 1953, with a new mine opened, Canadian production will exceed that in the United States and be exceeded only by that in the Belgian Congo.

And secondly, Canada's pilot plant nuclear reactor at Chalk River is considered the most efficient in the world. When pending developments in refining are carried through, Canada will be moving towards a completely self-contained atomic development. In a comparatively short time, Canada will be able to move in almost any direction as far as the peacetime uses of fissionable materials are concerned.

Canada's atomic program is geared for peacetime use and will probably remain so short of another war. Canda has not the resources to undertake such a vast program as that in the United States where almost a million people are engaged directly, or indirectly in it. But in our own sphere, Canada has already achieved a superiority and everything points to maintaining that position.

CANADIAN TEAM WINS

R. W. Ballard, Yonge St., Newmarket, was presented with the trophy won by the Canadian Equestrian Team at the National Horse Show, New York, recently. The team had only a half point scored against them.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Jean MacArthur, wife of General Douglas MacArthur.

Prior to the national show, the Canadian team had tied with the U.S. team at Harrisburg. Canada has won in international competition in 1932 and 1936.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of these activities which rest on individual choice.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

Slim Bliggens was talking about the spirit of progressive integration the other evening. It was prompted by the speech of President Truman about a great world peace through a world arms inventory.

"You take the spirit of progressive integration now, that's some idea," said Slim. "You can't beat it; that's what we need more of."

"Have we got any now?" I asked.

"Well, it's not exactly that way; you see we are really in it if you look at it the way I see it," he said.

"If we are in it, how can we need more of it?" I said.

"Well, that's igorance for you! No wonder the world is in the mess it's in, it's igorance!"

"What's it?" I asked.

"What's what?"

"The spirit of progressive integration" I said.

Slim leaned away back and tilted his chair and with his finger tips together, assumed a look of an intellectual, steeped in philosophical thought.

"We philophosers see civilization as makin' a lot of mistakes but they learn somethin' after every mistake. Course they is all kinds of new mistakes humankind can make, all kinds of combinations of 'em, but maybe they is makin' fewer kinds of mistakes than they did a hundred years ago."

"Oh."

"Yas, and we philophosers believe that man is going to get to the point where there won't be many mistakes left to make and he will be gettin' nearer and nearer to perfection. He'll never git perfect but he will always be gettin' still nearer to it. That's which we calls the spirit of progressive integration."

There was a long, long silence.

"I feel B. Ferg Rumble won't get in," I said.

"That's the whole trouble, igorance," Bliggens exclaimed. "You don't even bother to think. That's the whole trouble with youse newspaper columnbines, you don't do any thinkin', you just go by feelin' your way along with the crowds."

"He hasn't kissed one single baby since he was nominated," I said. "I figure he has lost the election already."

"How can the masses be educated if even types like you don't think?" said Slim.

"Or even types like Candidate B. Ferg Rumble," I said.

"Aw, shut up," said Slim.

The next day I went over to Slim's shack, the piano box mansion by the railway tracks and Slim was heavily overcast. Gloom was everywhere. On the table lay the morning paper which told of the Russians' reaction to the disarmament plan.

I poured myself a cup of Bliggen's coffee a la ethylene glycol and sat down with gay abandon.

"It ain't no easy lot, a philophoser's lot, it ain't," said Slim.

"What's the matter, your progressive spirits stopped integrating?" I asked.

"Oh no, the cider is still workin' in the cellar all right, whole seven crocks of it. It'll probably be ready by Christmas."

"No, I mean your philosophy, is it still coming along all right?"

"Oh that. Wall, I see it this way. The way I see it, chaos is goin' to rule after all the bombs go off and then the world'll git destroyed. It's fate, see? That's what it is hereby decreed. Yep, and lo the world will git destroyed, it's said."

Although Slim Bliggens hasn't much education, I believe that he is one of our greatest contemporary thinkers. He is a thinking giant of our age.

Slim Bliggens is such a profuse thinker, that his thinking sometimes runs hog wild. Too bad somebody doesn't put a control on it, harness it and make use of it.

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

The Editor: I feel compelled to give you fair warning that come next November, I will be unable to write my weekly column for at least two and possibly three weeks. I think it is only right to give you ample time to provide for suitable substitution or make other necessary arrangements.

If you are wondering how it all started, we think we better tell you about the events that lead to such a drastic situation. Last week, we called the seed mill to get some seed cleaned and were duly informed that they are unable to attend to our needs because the owner and operator was up north deer hunting. We were highly inconvenienced, but didn't think more of it.

In a few days time, it became necessary to call the vet but we were informed that service is somewhat slow since the senior partner was deer hunting. We thought this to be an excellent idea since the gentleman in question is working too hard and hours that were much too long.

In succeeding days we called and heard the self same observation in connection with the firm supplying gasoline to the farm and the people who repair tires. They were all away deer hunting. Had there been an emergency during this time, we think we would have had to list our doctor among those who have departed to chase the elusive deer. Then one day, when we called the office of the Department of Agriculture, we found that the gentleman who is in charge of it was also away. At this point we felt we had to throw in the sponge.

It isn't so much that we resented the Ag. Rep's departure any more than we did the others. As a matter of fact we haven't resented any of them. We wish them good luck and good hunting.

But there we were: no way of cleaning seed and no way of getting gasoline. Nobody to look after a sick calf and a sick child. Nobody to repair a tire or give us advice when we need it. It was as if farming had gone back 40 years. And to make matters worse, the weather here was what one expected to see 500 miles up north. Well, if we had to put up with that too, we might just as well have gone hunting too.

So our resolution stands firm, and come next November, we will leave with the others. We shan't have to worry about gasoline and tires. We won't need any seed cleaning done and let the sick calves worry about it themselves. And while this noble, selfish resolution was taking shape we remembered what a very sage philosopher once told us; that come deer hunting season, all able males from 16 to 60 go up north. They all hope that their families are all right while they are way. But deep down in their hearts, they don't give a damn.

Once our resolution was made, we felt happy and contented again. We were once bitten by a fish, now we will be kicked by a deer. We promptly marched down town to pick up a pair of boots we had in town for repair. Nothing like getting one's equipment together. We boldly walked up to the shop. Yes, you guessed it right. It was closed. The man was away deer hunting.

Yours truly,
"Dairy Farmer"

The wedding took place on Nov. 6, 1901, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dyke, Newmarket. Rev. George McCullough officiated. Present at the anniversary reception were the bridesmaid and best man, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bodfish, Aurora, and the organist, Mrs. Wm. Evans, Bradford.

Relatives from out-of-town included Miss Lillie Dyke, Aurora; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bodfish, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bodfish, Mrs. Annie Henry, Newmarket; Mrs. Wm. Evans, Bradford; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dyke, Unionville.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller received many gifts and flowers, including a large bouquet of chrysanthemums, and a corsage of yellow roses for Mrs. Miller, from the McLachlan Lumber Company, Kingston, where Mr. Miller has been a foreman for 25 years.

ROBSON - BICE

King United Church Manse was the scene of a double ring ceremony on Saturday, Nov. 10, when Joan Yvonne Bice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elias A. Bice was married to Earl Albert Robson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Robson. Rev. Martin Jenkinson officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a gown of white brocaded satin, styled with fitted bodice, softly gathered at the shoulder, V-neckline, pyramid sleeves pointed over the hand, and full skirt. Her fingertip embroidered veil was held in place by a beaded pearl halo, and she wore a double strand of pearls. Her flowers were a Colonial bouquet of pink carnations, white pompoms and green fernery. The attendant was Mrs. Ronald Robson, wearing a gown of pale blue brocaded satin with matching mittens. In her hair was a bandeau of blue rosettes, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of rose carnations and pink pompoms.

Ronald Robson was best man. The bride and groom attended Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Robson at their marriage last August.

The reception was held at Ridge Inn, Oak Ridges. Decorations were white, yellow and pink pompoms. The bride's mother received in a costume of wine and blue silk crepe, wine accessories, and corsage of yellow and bronze baby mums with green feathers. The groom's mother wore a dress of navy blue crepe and black accessories. She wore a corsage of pink baby mums with green feather mount.

The bride's travelling costume was wine gabardine with matching accessories, beige top coat and corsage of yellow and pink baby mums. The couple left by motor for Huntsville, Novar, and Algonquin Park. On their return they will live at 43 Bostford St., Newmarket.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Bice, gave the flowers used to decorate Ridge Inn, to the Rev. M. R. Jenkinson to be used in the decoration of Teston United Church, which celebrated the 79th anniversary and special dedication services on Sunday, Nov. 11.

I Like To Tell Success Stories about favourite buywords of mine. The success story of RED ROSE TEA AND COFFEE began with an ideal of quality—and now the Red Rose name is famous for flavour in thousands of Canadian homes. I know you'll agree with all the "Red Rose Fans" that Red Rose Tea is good tea from the moment you taste that first, flavourful sip! Remember, too, that because it's good tea, it actually gives more cups to the pound—its flavour goes a long, long way. And Red Rose Coffee is every bit as good as Red Rose Tea. Always fresh—always flavourful—once you've tasted this full-bodied coffee, you'll never be satisfied with any other!

You Don't Need To Be A Ballerina to suffer the agonies of muscle-strain! A busy day of housecleaning is enough to do the damage. That's why I make a point of always having SLOAN'S LINIMENT handy in the medicine cabinet. When muscles ache after a day of furniture-moving and cleaning, Sloan's feels so good as it's gently patted on the ache. Its soothing, penetrating warmth brings quick relief from the pain. Keep Sloan's handy for relief from the pains 'n' aches of rheumatism and neuralgia, too! It costs just 50c for the small-sized bottle—90c for the large . . . and it's such a real investment in comfort!

You Have To Eat . . . and it's wise to eat well, but with today's high food costs, there's little left over for other things you need. That's why it pays to insist on quality . . . the kind of quality you get when you buy GOTHAM GOLD STRIPE nylons! Not only have the folks at Gotham made hosiery that will wear and wear . . . they've made beautiful hosiery . . . just as sheer and strong as you like it—and in a wide cast of flattering, fashion-wise colours! And here's a Gotham "special" I think you should know about. The toe seams of all Gotham Gold Stripe nylons are knitted together to give you extra-long wear! Ask for Gotham Gold Stripe nylons next time you buy hosiery . . . on sale at all better stores.

All Across Canada — in hotels, in hospitals, in your own kitchen . . . aluminum is a reliable friend. Friendly to food, friendly to health . . . aluminum bottle caps and butter wraps — aluminum pails, foil wrappers, candy wrappers and cooking utensils assure wholesomeness and cleanliness. And I don't need to tell you how efficient aluminum cooking utensils are in your kitchen. Light, durable and clean—they protect food purity and flavour . . . distribute heat evenly and quickly, therefore economically. And how bright and smart aluminum always looks! Happy the cook who's the proud possessor of a gleaming "treasure trove" of aluminum cooking utensils!

I've Seen The Day when I could practically bounce my tea biscuits on the floor—and I remember the disappointments that cakes and muffins always used to be. That was "Before Calumet." What a difference CALUMET BAKING POWDER makes to my baking now! Tender, moist and always perfectly leavened, because Calumet has wonderful double action, that lifts the batter higher and higher—first in the mixing bowl, then again in the oven. And neither stirring nor interruptions can disturb that marvellous double action. Rely, as I do, on Calumet Baking Powder for sure, sure results in baking.

There's No Such Thing As A "Pre-Shrunk" Dollar—but I've found a way to s-t-r-e-t-c-h mine. It's no secret . . . I put my dollar bills through that really wonderful process called Personal Planning! This BANK OF MONTREAL system of budget-control really makes your money go farther—buy more. If the high cost of living seems to be shrinking your hard-earned dollars, give them that Personal Planning treatment! Before very long you'll be meeting today's high prices and putting money in the bank, too. It's a grand way to get your finances well in hand by Christmastime! Ask for your free copy of the booklet, "PERSONAL PLANNING", at your neighborhood branch of the B of M today.

Now's The Time when store ads start saying "so many shopping days before Christmas" . . . so better whisper in Santa's ear soon that you want a new FRIGIDAIRE REFRIGERATOR. And I'll wager you'll get one when you tell him how much refrigerator you get for the money . . . and how a new Frigidaire saves so much food and electricity. To cinch the deal, take your Santa to your Frigidaire Dealer's to see for himself why Frigidaire is Canada's No. 1 Refrigerator . . . and the five different models that offer one that is just right for your family, your kitchen, your budget. Once he sees the roomy storage space, the matchless perfection of Frigidaire's Meter-Miser mechanism, Frigidaire's Quickube Ice Trays, and all its other features . . . you're practically sure of a new Frigidaire for Christmas!

Be Brave About Sponge Cakes. You can be sure of tempting beauties that are tender, delicate, sephyr-light . . . if you make them with SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR. You see, Swans Down is sifted and resifted until it is 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. Makes better cakes—always.

ORANGE WASHINGTON PIE

Our readers write

Letters to the editor are always welcome but the names of the writers must be known to the editor.

The Editor: Your comments on "Retail Price Cutting" (editorial of Nov. 8) appeal to me as sound and fair. The descriptions given of the evil consequences likely to flow from "cut-throat competition" reminded me of the deplorable experiences of the depression years, when the farmers' revenues went into the cellar, and remained there for almost a decade, or until the Nazis goose-stepped across the Polish border.

Neither a retailer nor a farmer can remain in business for long, after the margin between operating costs and income narrows and disappears.

For my money, I would like to see the governmental authority "make haste slowly" before barging into the pricing machinery as between the manufacturer and the retailer. They would be on easier and more fertile ground, I think, in making sure that the combine laws are not infringed on the one hand, and that on the other agricultural valuations are kept in something like decent alignment with the cost of the things farmers must buy.

Maybe there is room for the following related "quote" from my farm paper: The purchasing department of the City of Calgary recently asked for estimates on 6,000 feet of single conductor tinned copper code rubber insulation cable. Four companies put in separate bids, each exactly for $9,252. Remarks the Calgary Albertan: "There is nothing like competitive free enterprise for providing remarkable coincidences."

Clearly, real teeth are needed for "catching the combines"; but "cut-throat competition" has been well described as "merely war, grown miserly."

See for yourself
why an IRON FIREMAN Vortex OIL BURNER saves you money

Iron Fireman's bowl-shaped flame covers the hearth and applies heat instantly to every inch of primary heating surface. Saves up to one gallon of oil out of every three.

Ordinary gun-type burners release heat in the ashpit where it cannot be absorbed so effectively. Results in uneven heat . . . high fuel bills.

Iron Fireman's VORTEX Flame is the reason

No other oil burner has this fuel-saving flame. Iron Fireman's whirling Vortex flame starts above the grate line, covering the hearth and blanketing the sidewalls of the furnace. The rich radiant heat circulates through your home instead of going up the chimney. . . Saves up to 30% on fuel bills.

And what wonderful head-to-toe comfort you enjoy. Reduces stratified cold air along the floors—you get steady, even heat quickly.

Complete "packaged" units for warm air, steam or hot water heating, with built-in Vortex oil burner are available too.

See for yourself how an Iron Fireman Vortex Oil Burner can save you money. See us or phone for free heating survey. Immediate installation

Needlecraft News

LET'S TAKE A few minutes to see how your Christmas plans are coming along. You should be busily working on them now—but if not, you had better start. If you have many gifts to make, you will probably concentrate on smaller items so that you'll have time to finish them before the big day.

Toys

A few suggestions for gift items might be welcome—in fact, they might prove the solution to your problem. For children—and there are probably many children's names on your list—you might want to make toys. Stuffed animals have a charm all their own. They're soft and cuddly—can take punishment without showing it—and are inexpensive to make. Another idea is to stuff a stocking and then dress it in any style you wish. It's lots of fun to do

Fashion Accessories

In the fashion line there are many small accessory items that you can make, and you'll find patterns for them in any of the pattern catalogues. You can make them in corduroy, velveteen or plaid wool—very smart fabrics for this season. Belts are other popular fashion items. You can feel assured that the gift of a belt will be appreciated, because a girl can't have too many of them.

For The House

There are so many things you can make for the house. Large projects that are absorbing and interesting, such as tablecloths, bedspreads and rugs. These must be started early if they are to be used for Christmas gifts. They are ideal wedding gifts too and can be given with pride and with the certain knowledge of how much they will be appreciated. From the tablecloth right down to the smallest doily, hand made gifts for the home are always suitable. The range in patterns is wide and a suitable theme can be chosen for the most discriminating hostesses. There are pot holders, hot plate sets, tea cosies, cushions, lamp shades and so on—It's early yet, you have plenty of time to get started, and THIS year greet the holidays with satisfaction.

Stuffed Bunny

If you wish to make a stuffed toy, try making this appealing little bunny. He sits up and begs to be loved. He can be made in any color of either percale, gingham, chintz, or calico-plain or printed—checks or plaids are good too. He has yarn whiskers and bright little button eyes. Children all ages will just love to have him. If you wish to make this BUNNY, a direction leaflet is available. Just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper and request Leaflet No. E-299.

MOTHER OF 'DOZEN' SPEAKS

"Spiritual, Human Values Must Be Recognized"

Dr. Lillian Gilbreth was the outstanding speaker at the annual convention of the Business and Professional Women's clubs of Ontario, reported Miss Norine Ayers, president of the Newmarket B. and P. club. Miss Ayers attended the conference held at the King Edward hotel, Toronto, as the club's official delegate.

Dr. Gilbreth, who is internationally-known both as an industrial engineer and the mother of 12 children, said that material values must not be allowed to become the sole gauge in industrial and business relations. Spiritual and human values had to be recognized if the needs of the world are to be met.

"There are many kinds of discrimination practiced today," she said. "Homemakers discriminate against business and professional women. Youth is not allowed its share of responsibilities and older workers are discriminated against also. Calendar age is not important. Alert people continue to learn regardless of their chronological age.

"There should be no line against either sex in any field of work. Any job should be open to any one who likes it and wants it. Men of art and music have been looked down upon as though they were taking part in inferior occupations."

A new book by Dr. Gilbreth, "Living with Our Children," has been published this month in Canada.

Judging from the number engaged in it, the day must have passed when crime doesn't pay.

ACT AS HOSTESSES FOR DORCAS SOCIETY

Mrs. Leslie Barber and Mrs. Harold Evans were joint hostesses on Monday, Nov. 5, for a Dorcas meeting of the Evening Auxiliary, W.A. of St. Paul's Anglican church, Newmarket. The meeting was held at the former's home, Prospect St.

Mrs. Bert Budd, president, was in the chair and conducted the devotional period. The balance of the evening was spent in preparations for the group's booth at the Community Bazaar. Mrs. Thomas Gillespie is the convener.

A social half-hour was spent and light refreshments were served by the hostesses.

PAROCHIAL GUILD HAS TEA, BAZAAR

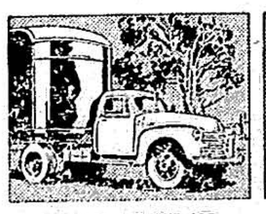

A very pleasant afternoon tea was held by the Parochial guild of St. Paul's Anglican church, Newmarket in the Parish Hall on Thursday, Nov. 8. The guild held its annual bazaar at the same time.

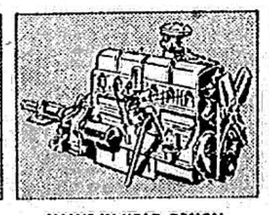

Receiving the guests was Mrs. John Dales, president, who was assisted by the rector's wife, Mrs. J. T. Rhodes. A nursery was operated for the pre-school age children.

Decorations followed a Christmas theme with the stage curtains being brightened with a crepe paper Christmas tree, a star and gaily covered ornaments. The tea tables were centred with miniature 'mums.

DRYOCOPUS PILEATUS
(Northern Pileated Woodpecker)
The Pileated Woodpecker is a startling bird. So spectacular is his appearance that he is often a target for guns in the hands of thoughtless people.
An extremely valuable bird, the Pileated should be protected. He destroys millions of wood insects and provides nesting sites for tree-dwelling ducks.

POWERED FOR THE JOB
Four great engines! The 92-h.p. Thriftmaster, the big 105-h.p. Loadmaster, the massive 114-h.p. Torquemaster and the mighty 120-h.p. engine all deliver outstanding performance with remarkably low fuel and maintenance expense.

VALVE-IN-HEAD DESIGN
For 39 years, Chevrolet has built valve-in-head engines. No other manufacturer has built so many, just as no other truck engine design can match the over-all economy and proved efficiency of Chevrolet's valve-in-head.

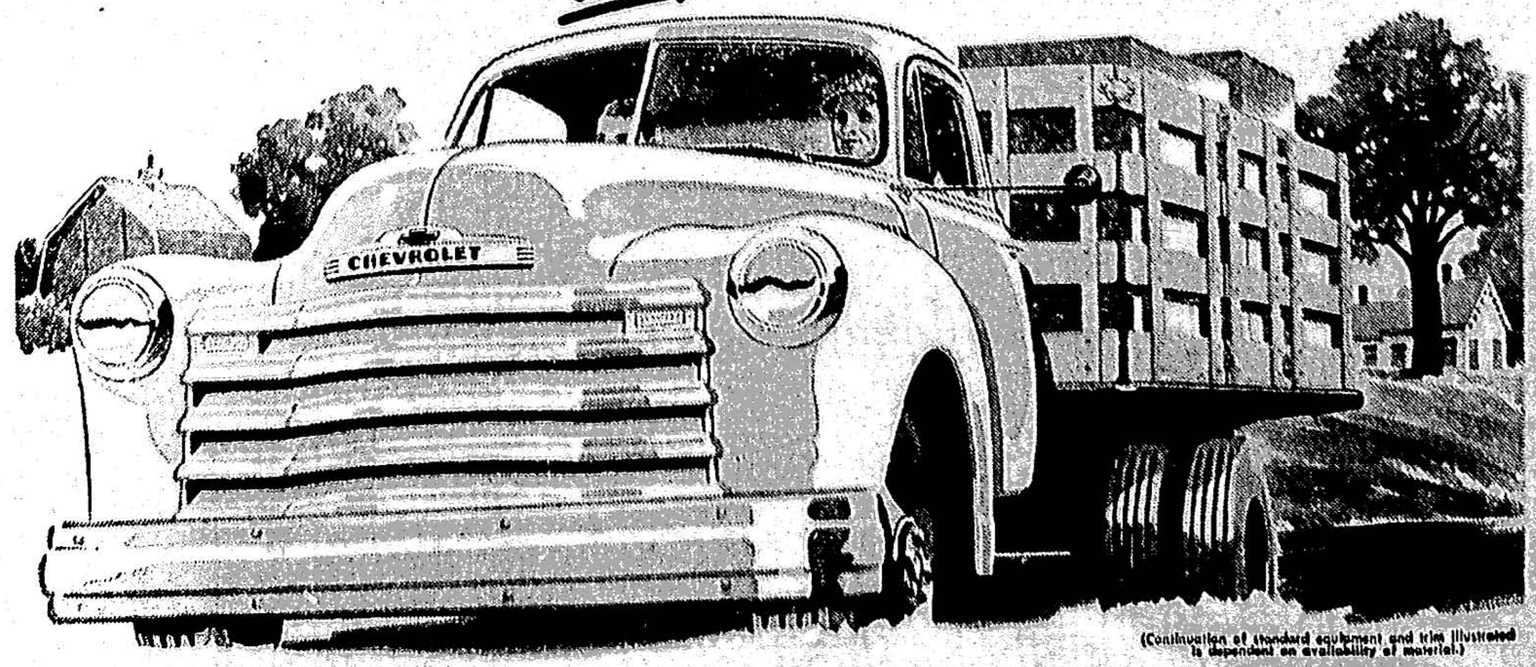

BLUE-FLAME COMBUSTION
Wrings all the usable energy from every drop of gasoline. Blue-Flame combustion is possible only with valve-in-head engine design — provides greater power and livelier performance, through more efficient utilization of fuel.

POWER-JET CARBURETOR
At low speed, on grades or at regular highway speeds, Chevrolet's Power-Jet carburetor maintains the proper fuel mixture for the engine. This, plus fast warm-up, smooth, quick response, means surprisingly low operating costs.

LONG LASTING BRAKES
The greater self-energization of Chevrolet hydraulic brakes provides smoother, safer braking — completely equalized pressure to each brake. This in turn assures full lining contact and longer wear — for the brakes on your truck.

BONDED BRAKE LININGS
No rivets! On light- and medium-duty models, the lining is bonded directly to brake shoes to increase life and to eliminate danger of scoring brake drums as lining wears. You get extra wear — safer brakes.

And Chevrolet economy goes far beyond low operating costs. It means engines, chassis and cabs will stand up under rough, tough use month after month, year after year. It means building extra ruggedness and extra efficiency into Chevrolet trucks at lowest cost.

Every day, more and more truck users are switching to new Chevrolet trucks. Take a tip from these truck-wise buyers and get engineered-in economy and more work for your money.

REMEMBRANCE AND CONVENTION

When Kipling wrote "Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget" and "Non Nobis Domine", the poet was lost in the prophet, for like the prophets of old he warned us that there is only one thing that stands in man or nation after the tumult and shouting dies—"An humble and a contrite heart".

For years we have sung the Recessional, with its ominous "lest we forget," while all the time we are doing our best to forget—forget the sacrifices of the men, many of whom lie in Flanders fields, many in our military hospitals, and many more going about among us bearing marks mental and physical that they will carry with them while life lasts.

It is much easier to forget their sacrifices than to remember that we owe to them the fact that our "true North strong and free" is free. Human nature being what it is, we resent being under an obligation to anybody. I often think when we sing,

"Still stands His cross, from that dread hour to this, like some bright star, above the dark abyss, still through the veil, the victor's pitying eyes, look down to bless our lesser Calvaries," how seldom we think of Good Friday; we'd much rather think of Easter, forgetting that if Christ had not died, we would have no Easter.

It seems to me that when we realize how little we dwell on the terrible tragedy of Christ on Calvary and the lesser Calvaries that faced the dead and still face many living, we should engrave Kipling's words on our hearts and on our walls, in our churches and in our public buildings, so that we will remember that "Still stands thine ancient sacrifice, an humble and contrite heart. Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, lest we forget, lest we forget!"

Area Convention

Going to Toronto on Tuesday morning last, to attend the W.I. Area Convention at the Royal York; Jean Williams and I went softly with the ominous words ringing in our ears, "10 inches of snow last night!" We had wild visions of walking through drifts 10 inches high, especially myself, who had put on goloshes over shoes they weren't meant to go over, and suffered accordingly.

But snow or no snow, nothing could spoil the delight of being two members, two proud members of the great body of Women's Institute personnel who flocked into the Royal York for that convention, the 40th.

President's Talk

We were a little late, arriving as Mrs. Purcell, F.W.I.O. president, was speaking. She was speaking of the Mrs. Fulcher scholarship in recognition of that president's splendid work. Mrs. Purcell said that helping boys and girls in our communities is paving the way for more efficient leadership in the future. Mrs. Purcell paid high tribute to the work of Miss Anna Lewis in every branch that the work called for.

She also spoke of the necessity for care in submitting resolutions. The proper signatures must be affixed before they become valid, copies must also be retained by the Branch submitting, for reference. We must, said Mrs. Purcell, develop international feeling, we must not have lives bounded north, south, east and west by family, homes, communities and even countries. We must get to know the problems that face the nationalities, we must make our democratic way of life attractive by living it, and to the stranger within our gates we must give welcome and understanding. We must teach tolerance in our homes and consideration of other's opinions and possiblities. We live in one world now.

Junior Groups

The Junior Institutes put on a fine display of the work they do, as homemakers, dress makers, and artists in beautifying homes. Some time I will write of their work more fully; at present space is of the essence, for I wish to speak of the luncheon.

We were at a friendly table with members of neighboring Institutes—I have been at a frozen woman such as you should crawl table where you felt that a into the ground, but this was just fine and we were even offered chairs to sleep on if the great storm came!

I always tell the menu, for every woman loves to know what was served: fruit cocktail, baked ham with sauce, green peas, dauphine sweet potatoes, lemon chiffon pie, coffee. Everyone was hungry, so everyone enjoyed her luncheon.

We heard two groups of songs by the negro tenor, Albert Marston. He was a tremendous man and in some numbers his voice was simply magnificent. I did not care for him in "Danny Boy" or "Because", but in "Old Man River", "Walls of Jericho", and his operatic number, he was superb.

Mr. Carrol, representing Hon. T. L. Kennedy and Mr. Graham, brought greetings from the Dept. of Agriculture. He said a substitute was only a poor emulation of the real thing, but he'd bring greetings anyway.

The guest speaker was Dr. Parks, Director of Organization, the Canadian Mental Health Association. Dr. Parks had everything a speaker should have —magnetic personality, humour, and a thorough knowledge of and love for his work.

Correction: Owing to my hieroglyphic hand writing, which makes me think I must have been an Egyptian cat worshipper in days gone by, the name of the actress who took the part of the nurse in "Harvey" was left off. It should have been Laurna Styke.

Tell Tale, Child's Lisp Make Teacher's Life Miserable

Patsy, six years old, tells tales out of school.

The first week of school. Patsy hurried home with a tale about a child who had little bugs jumping around in his hair. Patsy's mother was alarmed and on the verge of inspecting Patsys head when Patsy reassured her that the teacher had already done just that and she was alright. "But," continued Patsy, "do you know what? She said she was going to put that new boy in lice-olation, and she did."

The tale was based on truth, as most childish tales are; however, it wasn't exactly accurate, which most childish tales aren't. In this instance the tale was really quite amusing and has been told as such many times.

On another occasion Patsy came home with the tale that her new teacher used bad words, that she swore when she didn't like something. This was disturbing news and it was hard to believe that the school board would tolerate such a teacher. When Patsy was questioned further she insisted the teacher "damned things".

It wasn't as if Patsy didn't like her teacher, so she couldn't have been making up a tale to discredit her. Patsy was simply innocently telling a tale out of school. Patsy's mother was greatly concerned. At first she was going directly to the school board, then she decided to report the case to the principal and let him deal with the teacher. The idea of talking quietly to the teacher never occurred to Patsy's mother.

When the principal heard the tale he was likewise concerned and listened to the tale and promised to investigate the matter immediately.

Before the actual verdict was given, there was considerable commotion in the vicinity, wondering just what would happen to the teacher who swore in front of little children. Unless she was fired, the school wouldn't be a fit place for children.

Little Patsy was the one who cleared the situation a few days later. She came home with the tale about the carpenter fixing the door, the desk drawers and the windows so now the teacher can open them without swearing. She says they aren't "damned" any more.

Patsy's mother found herself in a very embarrassing position. The entire uproar had been a mistake. There was no doubt about it. Patsy's mother explained to her that instead of saying the door was stuck, the drawers were stuck and the windows were stuck, the teacher had said they were jammed, which meant they were stuck and was not swearing as she had supposed.

Although Patsy is satisfied with the explanation, her tale traveled so far that explanations haven't reached all who heard the tale. There will always remain those who believe that the new teacher used to swear and was stopped because she was reported to the authorities. As is so often the case, it would have been wiser, kinder and more diplomatic for Patsy's mother to have gone direct to the teacher, who was the supposed offender in this case.

Weddings

WISZT—STASKO

A wedding of interest was solemnized in Bradford Roman Catholic church on Saturday morning, Nov. 3, when Mary Stasko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sabo, became the bride of Michael Wiszt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Wiszt, all of Holland Marsh. The altar was decorated with vases of chrysanthemums and Rev. Father McGinnis performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore white French lace over nylon net made with long fitted torso and buttons, and tuxedo peplum. The full skirt ended in a slight train and her fingertip veil of lace fell from a headpiece of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Mrs. Lorne Marsh of Aurora, sister of the bride, was her attendant in powder blue brocaded satin, matching shoulder length veil flowing from a headpiece of flowers. She carried a shower bouquet of pink chrysanthemums.

The best man was Russell McArthur, brother-in-law of the groom, and the usher was Michael Stasko, the bride's brother.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Sabo wearing royal blue crepe and lace and grey accessories. The groom's mother chose a dress of navy blue crepe and grey accessories. They both wore corsages of red roses.

For a honeymoon trip to Windsor and Buffalo, the bride wore a black velvet dress with white trim, leopard skin jacket and black accessories. A corsage of red roses completed her costume. While at Windsor, the newlyweds were guests of Mrs. Mrs. Russell McArthur, sister of the groom. Their home will be in Toronto.

For the wedding, guests came from Bracebridge, Windsor, Toronto, Aurora, King.

Before her marriage, a linen shower was held for the bride in Aurora, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lorne Marsh. A miscellaneous shower was also held in Toronto.

CRITTENDEN—DRAPER

Keswick Christian church was the scene of a wedding on Saturday, Nov. 3, when Ruby Violet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Draper, became the bride of Francis James Crittenden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Crittenden, Newmarket.

Rev. R. Serrick officiated, in a setting of white and mauve chrysanthemums. Mr. Cecil Prosser, accompanied by Mrs. Serrick, sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony, and "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin, and a coronet of lily of the valley held her fingertip veil. Her flowers were red roses and white mums.

Mrs. Rita Post, sister of bride, was matron of honor, wearing pink taffeta. Miss Dolores (Dell) Lumsden, as bridesmaid, was gowned in green taffeta. The flower-girls, Geraldine Post and Bonnie Lumsden, wore similar dresses of pink and green taffeta. All carried harmonizing nosegays.

Joe Draper was the best man, and the ushers were Bill Henry and Joe Lopowhsky.

After the reception at the home of the bride's parents, the couple left on a trip to Niagara Falls and New York. On their return they will reside in Newmarket.

CORR., MRS. L. E. ROLLING, PHONE KING 8

The Anglican turkey supper, held Nov. 9, was a success. There was a large attendance despite postponement from Nov. 7 because of the weather. Many came from Newmarket, Toronto, Richmond Hill, Maple and district places. It was very difficult to rearrange everything by telephone for two days later.

Plan White Gifts

At a meeting of Eversley Presbyterian W.A. held last week, Mrs. Albert Jones presided, giving the prayer and later conducting a Bible quiz. A report of the bazaar committee showed about $140 profit. There is $690 in the auxiliary treasury. White gifts will be brought to the December meeting for York Cunty Home for the aged. A special collection will also be taken at that meeting to provide Christmas treats for the institution. Mrs. T. L. Williams read the scripture lesson, and Mrs. F. Curtis read a story entitled "A Miracle for Christmas."

Teston Anniversary

The 75th anniversary services were held at Teston United church last Sunday. Large congregations filled the auditorium morning and evening. Baskets of white and yellow chrysanthemums were the decorations, and a bouquet on the communion table was in memory of the late Mrs. Harry Ireland, who was laid to rest on Sunday afternoon. The messages were inspiring and the music outstanding. The new organ was dedicated at the morning service.

Mr. Penny, assistant organist of First Baptist church, Toronto, was the guest organist. Rev. M. R. Jenkinson, the minister, preached the morning sermon, gave the prayer of Remembrance and conducted the organ dedication. His sermon theme was "The Conquest of Doubt."

Rev. Dr. Archer Wallace of Maple was the evening preacher. His subject was "The Humble, the Hopeful and Loving Mind of Christ." The Toronto Christian Business Women's choir of 19 voices, directed by Nan Allin, sang five choral numbers.

Four months ago the project of a large organ was only an ambition. Its attainment is a credit to congregational co-operation. Two years ago the congregation set about to remodel the interior of the church and this was accomplished in a few months. During the past year the exterior of the edifice has been beautified.

To Hear Special Speaker

Mrs. Douglas, an executive of Toronto West Presbyterial, will be the speaker at Eversley Presbyterian W.M.S. on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 21, at the home of Mrs. J. Phillips.

Strange and the Ninth Line societies will be guests at the annual thankoffering meeting.

Annual Bazaar

The annual bazaar of King United church will be held in the church basement on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 27. Mrs. James Pollard, Richmond Hill, 3rd vice-president of Toronto Centre North W.A. Presbytery, will open the bazaar at 3 o'clock.

Special attention will be devoted to the home-baking table. Other booths of varied interest and a table for the children will be conducted. Afternoon tea consists of hot tea biscuits made on the spot in the W.A. kitchen at the church. With them will be jams or marmalade and tea. Mrs Arville Pumble is the W.A. president.

Christening in All Saints'

On Sunday afternoon a christening service was conducted by Rev. D. C. F. Mitchell for David Wilson Ross Lewis, six weeks old, the son of Dr. and Mrs. David Lewis of King City. The child wore an heirloom christening robe which has been used in the Lewis family for more than 70 years. It is a fine nainsook, with the front beautifully embroidered. Godparents are Dr. David Sutton of Montreal and Mrs. F. R. L. Sedgwick of Boston.

The child's grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. D. Slater Lewis, Montreal, and an aunt, Miss Anne Jefferson of Toronto, were among 25 guests. Afternoon tea was served at the home of Mrs. J. L. Crew.

Buy Billings' Home

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Peter of Toronto have purchased the George Billings' home on King sideroad and expect to move within a week or so. The couple have two sons, eight and two years of age. They are coming to King because they found life in the city "unbearable". Mr. and Mrs. Billings are moving into their new home very shortly.

Mrs. W. F. Hood, her mother, Mrs. Emmett, and Miss Joan Mitchell, motored to Buffalo for a few days recently, just missing the mammoth snow storm there when they left that city Nov. 3.

Mrs. G. T. Thompson entertained a few friends on Sunday evening in honor of her husband (Jock) whose birthday fell on the following day. There was a fine birthday cake decorated with five candles. Their lovely daughter Gail, aged three was permitted to stay up long enough to greet the visitors. However, her big day came on Monday when Gail was hostess to her daddy, celebrating his birthday with another decorated cake with its "five" candles.

Wheat Crop Endangered

The premature heavy snowfall has caused some anxiety to farmers. Fall wheat has been endangered. Many gardeners still hope to harvest cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower and the tuber vegetables. One gardener was seen shovelling snow to dig his potatoes last Saturday. They would be alright, as there has been no frost in the ground.

In one Newmarket grocery store there were home-grown cauliflower bearing a yellow cast. They were quite stiff with frost, but at 15 cents a head were selling very well.

Riverview Inn Opening

A formal opening of Riverview Inn, King township, was held by the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Nayda, on Oct. 27, when 200 were present for a turkey dinner.

The inn has been attractively rebuilt after a fire last January. Many baskets of flowers were sent on the occasion of the opening.

Jack Smith, M.P., cut the ribbon to mark the opening. Present were Alex MacKenzie, M.P.P., Earl Rowe, M.P. for Simcoe County, George Johnston, M.P.P., Missesing, Fred Cook of Bradford was master of ceremonies. The reeve of Bradford was a guest and Reeve Elton Armstrong and Mrs. Armstrong, King township, Charles Ross, building inspector, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Black, Kettleby, were also guests.

Mr. Nayda came to the township from Europe 15 years ago.

Five Trailer Homes

Trailer homes located on private property in King City are housing five families. The men of four of these are employed on the Toronto-Barrie highway construction work and are here temporarily. Mr. and Mrs. John Riseborough and their children, John and Anne, were unable to find an apartment in or about the village. They had to resort to trailer housing, on the property of Mrs. Cecil Walker. The family came from England last March, settling at Woodale Farm, Eversley, where Mr. Riseborough was farm employee of Douglas Wellesley. He is now working at Malton, commuting daily from King.

Mrs. Riseborough, an experienced telephone operator in England, began working in the King exchange and is continuing her work here. In England Mr. Riseborough owned a fruit and vegetable farm.

New Homes In Building Program

Seventy-eight homes have been built in King Township during the year. According to Charles Ross, building inspector, the largest program was carried out in the southern part of the municipality, south of the Aurora sideroad, notably on Yonge Street, Oak Ridges, the King district with a few at Nobleton.

Last year 76 new homes were built and 21 in 1949. The total amount spent on new houses, garages and repairs to buildings was $612,320, a figure slightly above last year. The average price of each house is $8,768, while the highest price on a single dwelling was $35,000.

The choice of building material is clapboard, insul brick and a few brick-clad houses. Brick buildings are fast disappearing in the township, said Mr. Ross. Brick is difficult to procure. One of the homes has a stone front to correspond with the original part of the dwelling, which was a pioneer home.

Requests for building permits are being sought from the building inspector, one amounting to $20,000 for a house extension.

Mrs. Margaret McPhail and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Kate Folliott, Kirkfield, had supper on Saturday evening, with their cousin, Mrs. Harvey Folliott. The visitors had attended the funeral of their cousin, Miss Louisa J. Beynon of Aurora, who was buried in King cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred O'Brien and Allan attended the funeral of Mrs. Harry Ireland, Vaughan Township, on Sunday afternoon from the Weldrick homestead. Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. Ireland were sisters. Also at the funeral service were Mrs. Ada Cameron and son Russell, Mrs. Robert Murdock, sisters-in-law of Mrs. Ireland.

During the winter weather Sir Ellsworth and Lady Flavelle spent time at BoBston and New York. They found the weather there unseasonably cold.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Wanamaker and the mother, Mrs. H. Wanamaker of Port Perry, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Scott on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Shaw of Novar, their daughter Evelyn and husband John Green of Huntsville, Mr. and Mrs. Carson Bice of Parry Sound were guests at their sister's wedding reception, King.

Joan Bice married Earl Robson on Saturday. The bride's brother, and wife of Maple, her sister, Mrs. Walter Downing, and husband of Maple, and her sister, Mrs. Effie Bingham, and husband of Oak Ridges, were also guests. Another sister, Betty, of King, also attended the reception. The groom's brother and sisters present were, Miss Louise Robson of King, Mrs. Wood and husband, Aubrey Wood of Kettleby, Mr. and Mrs. George Robson, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Rolph Robson, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Robson, Maple. Earl Robson was his brother's groomsman. The parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Elias Bice, the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Robson, were at the marriage ceremony at the United Church Manse, King.

Gravel Trucks Smash

Two gravel trucks met in a head-on collision Saturday morning at the main intersection near the railway track in the village. Drivers were A. J. Harrison, Willowdale, and G. Armitage, Minden. Police said damage to the vehicles was not heavy. Charges were pending.

One of Cousin's milk trucks driven by Ken Ham of Laskay, collided with the rear of a parked car owned by Storm's Construction Co. last Thursday morning on east King sideroad at the edge of the village. The highway was ice-coated following a rain and ice storm the previous night. No charges were laid.

School Inspector

Mr. H. B. Galpin, public school inspector, paid an all-day visit to King school on Friday. He inspected the work of the three classrooms. The children were delighted with the visit of their new inspector and are anxious to see him come again. Mr. Galpin, who lives in Richmond Hill, attended the turkey supper at the Anglican church on Friday evening. Mr. Galpin succeeds Mr. Charles Howitt, and has King Markham and Vaughan in his charge. He came from Sarnia after his appointment in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mulholland and daughter Reta, Aurora, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCarthy.

Miss Marjorie Jarvis was in Collingwood last weekend to visit Mrs. Walker.

Suffers Injury

Mr. Jim Brown, building contractor, recently suffered a painful accident when he stepped into an excavation which had been dug by his son Lorne, Langstaff. Mr. Brown fractured a bone in his foot and was taken to the Western hospital where he remained for treatment. While Mr. Brown was aware of the four-foot deep opening, he misjudged its location after dark.

Mrs. Allan Shaw and baby daughter, Colleen Virginia, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Armstrong, over the weekend Mrs. Armstrong has successfully recovered from a recent surgical operation performed at Mount Sinia hospital.

Weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Green were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Veres, Mrs. Bob Kemp and son Robert, Niagara Falls, and Mrs. Stephen Wood of Belleville, Mrs. Green's sister. Mrs. Kemp is remaining with her parents for a time.

L. M. Montgomery Read To Children

Appropriate to Young Canada Book Week, we recall an incident in the home life of Mrs. Mc-Donald (L. M. Montgomery). When her sons, Chester and Douglas (they were near of an age) were only babies, too young to understand much of story telling she would read aloud many ponderous subjects, objects of her study far beyond their ken.

When asked why she chose to read such weighty matter to such young children, her reply was, "The children know I am reading from a book. They will soon know that good books are a part of their lives". And they did. Chester became a lawyer and Douglas a successful business man.

There'll be open house at King Public School, S.S. 2, on Friday, Nov. 23, at 8 p.m. Refresments will be served.

LEGION PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Must Strive For Canadianism - Hulse

"If we are to survive a third world war, Canada, which will be the focal point of conflict, will need more people. Our big job as a Canadian Legion, the fourth largest numerical group in the ten provinces of the Dominion, is to see that the new Canadian becomes a Canadian citizen and that children learn the Canadian way of life," T. A. M. Hulse of Aurora, president of the Ontario Legion Command, told King veterans at the third annual turkey banquet held in the King United church on Monday night.

It was sponsored by the King Legion Ladies' Auxiliary. The guest speaker was introduced by D. M. Findlay, president of King Legion Branch 438.

The subject of Mr. Hulse's address were the highlights of the four-day convention of the Dominion council at Ottawa last week, which brought together the viewpoints of veterans across Canada, providing an opportunity to learn what Canadian people are thinking about. Mr. Hulse represented the largest Legion Command of the council, which strongly pressed the cabinet to set up the 33⅓ percent as the basis rate of veterans' pensions. The Legion is united in this opinion and will not be satisfied with less, Mr. Hulse pointed out.

Other equally important issues taken up by the Dominion Council were the pressure upon the government to supplement the existing "burnt out veterans' pensions", to cope with the cost of living index; a request for national registration to insure national preparedness. The analysis of the 1941 census was released in 1947, and that is too long to wait, Mr. Hulse pointed out. The council stressed the year 1952 is important in world affairs.

The free use of buildings, the census list and equal contribution in man power and money across Canada are vitally important in national preparedness, the speaker said.

Of the Legion education scholarships, Mr. Hulse said the auxiliaries had contributed more than the branches. Of the 107 applicants from children of veterans, ten had been given to those whose fathers had paid the sacrifice or died as the result of wounds. Nine had been given to those pursuing educational courses essential to Canada in "tough times."

The speaker gave a graphic account of the Remembrance Day service held by the Legion at Ottawa's war memorial on Sunday, Nov. 11, and attended by 10,000 people.

A. E. Campbell proposed the banquet toast to the King; Sgt. Dave Judd, the toast to fallen veterans of three wars. Joe McGrath thanked the speaker on behalf of the local organizations for his informative talk.
